Army board upholds Calley conviction

20-year sentence approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Court of Military Review today upheld the murder conviction of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. in the My Lai massacre and approved the sentence of 20 years at hard labor.

The Army announced that the review court found that Calley "personally participated in, and ordered subordinates to participate in, the mass summary execution of unarmed, unresisting men, women and children in the hamlet of My Lai, Republic of Vietnam, on March 16, 1968."

Calley originally was sentenced to prison for life after conviction by a court-martial at Ft. Benning, Ga., on charges of premeditated murder of "not less than 22 Vietnamese" and of assault with intent to murder a Vietnamese child.

On Aug. 20, 1971, the commander of the 3d Army reduced the sentence to 20 years.

The Army said he may now ask the U.S. Court of Military Appeals for a further review of his case.

President Nixon has said that he ultimately will review the Calley case in his role as commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

The three-judge Court of Military Review listened to arguments by Calley's lawyers last December as the lawyers sought to reverse his conviction or reduce the sentence further.

In its announcement, the Army said the Court of Military Review rejected Calley's defenses "that he did not intend to commit murder and that he was only obeying orders."

The court also turned down a number of other technical claims, including one that he was not subject to military jurisdiction, and that the court-martial which tried him was improperly constituted, unlawfully controlled by military superiors, and was influenced by pre-trial publicity.

Spectacular freeway crash injures 2, ties up traffic

A spectacular collision on Interstate 71 early Friday, involving a loaded tractor-trailer rig and a converted camper bus towing a trailer, sent both drivers to Memorial Hospital with severe injuries caused and a massive traffic jam along with damage estimated at several thousand dollars.

Admitted to the hospital were Donald L. Connelly, 32, Logansport, Ind., the trick driver, and John A. Hanby, 54, Jax, Fla., driver of the camper outfit. Both were reported in satisfactory condition Friday morning; Connelly suffering from a skull fracture and facial abrasions, and Hanby with multiple lacerations, knee and hand injuries.

The accident, occuring at 1:35 a.m., scattered debris and wreckage over a 500-foot stretch of the southbound lane, about a half mile north of U. S. 35. Traffic was blocked for over an hour as Highway Patrol officers, Jeffersonville firemen, and a Highway Department crew tried to clear the wreckage from the roadway.

Fayette County Sheriff's deputies, also on the scene, said traffic, mostly semi-rigs, was backed up to the Ohio 41 interchange, two miles from the crash.

PATROLMAN Ray Combs said the Hanby camper-trailer was attempting to pull from the passing lane back into the driving when Connelly's semi-rig slammed into the rear of the trailer. Hanby told officers he had slowed down to pull into the driving lane after he saw tailights ahead in the passing lane.

The crash ripped the trailer from the rear of the bus and knocked it off the left side of the pavement. Both the bus and semi rig were overturned by the collision and skidded on their sides for several hundred feet spewing drillbits and wreckage along the way.

The Jeffersonville Fire Department was called to the scene to wash away the large amount of fuel spilled on the pavement. A State Highway Department crew was also on the scene assisting in clearing the debris.

One lane traffic was maintained through the crash scene for several hours until the wreckage was completely cleared.

Connelly's semi rig and Hanby's camper and trailer were all demolished. Connelly was cited for failure to maintain an assured clear distance.

ONE PERSON was slightly injured and two drivers were cited in eight other traffic accidents investigated by city police and sheriff's departments overnight. Most of them occurred Thursday afternoon as freezing snow

Gilligan sees 'local level' foot-dragging

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan accuses entrenched local officials and citizens of being the biggest roadblocks to better public services in Ohio.

His attack on local establishments came in the February issue of the magazine "Nation's Cities" in an article he authored called "Ohio Tackles Its Governmental Tangle."

"Aside from party differences," wrote Gilligan, "the vested interests of local officials and citizens who are accustomed to existing patterns seem to comprise the most difficult barrier to the adoption of new solutions to growing public service problems.

"In short, those whose political and personal relationships help them cut through bureaucratic puzzles don't want changes.

The magazine article reviews the work of the Ohio Commission on Local Government Services, which meets today in Columbus to hear the results of a state-wide survey of attitudes and perceptions toward all levels of government by Ohioans.

Dr. Philip Burgess, director of the Behavioral Sciences Laboratory of Ohio State University, conducted a 1,500 sample survey last October and November. He completed computer runs and analysis of results earlier this week.

Gilligan's article gave some insight into the problems encountered by the commission in the 10 months it has operated.

Last April, Gilligan appointed 48 mayors, legislators, county commissioners, township trustees and private citizens "to find out what's wrong with local services and the systems that deliver them. Then invent solutions to the problems."

Since then, the governor says, "They broke into four committees and began to dig." He added they have learned "that modernizing the structures that finance and deliver citizen services through regions, counties, cities and townships would not be easy."

Gilligan said, "The processes required to change legal, fiscal, or administrative arrangements to improve local government service delivery are complex and extremely difficult."

He said there are more than 3,200 local units, consisting of townships, municipalities, villages, townships and school districts.

Before creating the commission, the governor said a preliminary analysis pointed up "several likely, underlying causes for inadequate public services."

He listed the causes as overlap in authority, "the longstanding chaotic pattern of state administrative service areas," varying population sizes served by similar functions and widespread fiscal disparities among local government units.

U.S. copter shot down

SAIGON (AP) — A big U.S. helicopter on a peacekeeping mission was shot down today north of Saigon, and five Americans were injured. Meanwhile, a North Vietnamese spokesman reported that the next 20 American prisoners of war being released by Hanoi would be freed Saturday or Sunday.

The CH47 Chinook helicopter was the first American aircraft downed in Vietnam since the cease-fire began Jan. 28. However, three helicopters were hit during the first three days of the truce, with one American killed and four wounded.

URBANA, Ohio (AP) — Fire early today destroyed a stable on the Champaign County Fairgrounds, killing five horses.

Driver-trainer Richard Buxton, who operates the stables, said he and several volunteers were able to save 21 horses.

Bare Nixon strategy to kill OEO

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has devised a detailed plan that calls for dismantling the Office of Economic Opportunity before Congress can come to its rescue.

The elaborate strategy, listing arguments the administration should use to support its case, the people in Congress it should work with and the obstacles it can expect to face, urges "completing the disagreeable business as soon as possible."

"The more delay, the more opportunity for congressional opposition to gather and develop a legislative counter-strategy," says the paper, which was prepared by the OEO's technical staff. A copy has been made available to The Associated Press.

Entitled "Congressional Strategy on OEO," the paper advises against a clash over constitutional powers with Congress, which last year extended the OEO and its many programs through fiscal 1974.

President Nixon's budget for fiscal 1974 calls for ending federal support for Community Action—the main OEO-sponsored antipoverty program—and scattering its remaining programs among other agencies.

"A constitutional confrontation may be where the administration is most vulnerable ...," the staff paper says. "The opposition can claim that there is

Ohio House eyes tax error, OKs capital improvements

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House will vote Tuesday on a measure which, if finally approved, would cost the majority of Ohio's income taxpayers a $5 bill.

It's not a new tax, but a bill correcting a "clerical error" in the income tax law which went into effect 13½ months ago.

As a result of the error in tax tables, a majority of the taxpayers—who fall into the $10,000-$15,000 annual income category—paid or wound up owing $5 less tax in 1972 than they should have.

The Department of Taxation estimates the bungle cost the state about $4 million in the first year of the income levy's existence. Drafters of the pending bill traced the mistake back to the fourth conference committee which wrote the final income tax bill in December, 1971.

State lawmakers headed home for the weekend in snowy weather Thursday after a partisan House fight rang with "pork barrel" charges on Gov. John Gilligan's $92.2 million federal revenue sharing bill.

The bill finally passed 53-34 on a party line vote with a few exceptions. Rep. Robert E. Netzley, R-81 Laura, joined prevailing Democrats after being assured the bill contains funds for a vocational educational school in his district.

Four Democrats left their ranks to vote "no," all Daytonians protesting the refusal of the administration and House leadership to include money for a medical school at Wright State University.

The bill appropriates the first allocation of federal revenue sharing funds covering the period from Jan. 1, 1972 to July 1, 1973. The biggest chunk—$35.5 million—goes for construction of vocational education schools and equipment.

Most of the remainder, if the Senate approves, would pay for a wide range of capital improvements ranging from museums and crime laboratories to state parks and mental health facilities.

Republicans who sought to rearrange the spending priorities labelled the bill a Democratic "pork barrel", designed to entrench that party's incumbents by pouring bricks and mortar into their home districts.

Ohio abortions difficult despite court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal court ruling Wednesday left Ohio without laws prohibiting abortions, but women still may have difficulty getting one.

Opponents of abortion plan a series of suits blocking them. And they are working for legislation to limit the number as much as possible.

Many hospitals are refusing to permit abortions, even if they are legal.

U.S. District Judge Joseph Kinneary struck down Ohio's abortion law as unconstitutional, following the lines laid down by the U.S. Supreme Court a month ago.

No appeal is expected on Kinneary's decision. David Young, a Columbus attorney who represents anti-abortion interests, said, "Rather. . .we will work with separate lawsuits and legislative reform."

Lawsuits to prevent abortions will be based on grounds of property and inheritance rights of the unborn child and the right of the father to consent to the abortion, Young said.

A temporary injunction was granted in a Franklin County Common Pleas Court case involving the property rights of an eight-week-old fetus. Judge George B. Marshall dissolved the injunction and dismissed the case after the federal court decision Wednesday.

Marshall said property rights were not relevant in the case. But later, he allowed that it may be a valid argument in preventing the abortion of a fetus whose heartbeat could be detected.

On Thursday the 23-year-old plaintiff in the case, identified only as "Mary Doe," obtained her abortion, according to the American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio, which handled the case.

Anti-abortionists are also beginning an active lobby effort to limit abortions within the ruling of the Supreme Court, Young said.

The Supreme Court left the abortion decision during the first three months of pregnancy up to the woman and her physician. In the second three months, the court said the state could only regulate health standards.

And the state could regulate and prohibit abortions in the final three months except if the woman's life were endangered by the pregnancy.

Young said he is sure an abortion bill will be presented to the legislature next week. He could not identify the author of the measure.

The Catholic church, historically opposed to abortions, will conduct an education program to inform women of the alternatives to abortions, Young said.

Several hospital spokesmen in the Columbus area have already indicated they will not allow abortions in their facilities. Sister Laurencita, administrator at Mt. Carmel Hospital said, "We support the right to life."

Spokesmen for Grant and Ohio State University Hospitals said they will continue operating under the now-invalid Ohio abortion law which allows abortion only if the "mother's life is endangered." They will wait until the Ohio law is rewritten.

Young said he also suspected many doctors might avoid performing abortions because of pressures or until the Ohio limits are made known.

Mary Ann Hanson, chairwoman of the Ohio Abortion Alliance, said she hopes two will be established within a month. She declined to say how they will be funded or staffed. But she suggested Planned Parenthood might create them.

Planned Parenthood Director Mary Harris said a board meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday to determine if the group will continue only its counseling function or expand and establish abortion clinics.

A time for remembering

Since 1971 the third Monday in February has been observed as the First President's birthdate which for over 170 years had been observed on Feb. 22, the actual date of Washington's birth in 1732.

The third Monday in February is one of four Monday holidays established by Congress effective in 1971. In Ohio, the day is officially known as Washington-Lincoln Day.

All city, county, state and federal offices will be closed Monday as will the city and county schools. There will be no city or rural mail delivery and the windows at the Post Office will be closed. The Post Office will be open for postal box patrons and drop box pickup and dispatches will remain on schedule, postal officials said.

Banks, the State Liquor Store and the Carnegie Public Library will close for the day.

Retail stores will remain open on Monday, and many have added extra hours today and Saturday for the holiday sales.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Alverda Bolton

Services for Mrs. Alverda Mae Bolton, 83, a former resident, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Robert Mayhew Funeral Home, Oak Hill, with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery. Mrs. Bolton died Wednesday in Peoria, Ill.

MISS CLYTA SELF — Services were held at 10:30 a.m. Thursday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home for Miss Clyta Self, 86, of 411 Temple St., who died Tuesday. The Rev. Don Baker, pastor of First Christian Church, officiated at the services.

Pallbearers for the burial in New Holland Cemetery were Carl Self, Frank Self, Robert Self, Marvin L. Arnold, Danny McDaniel and Richard Kirkpatrick.

MRS. EMMA BEATHARDS — Services for Mrs. Emma Jane Beathards, 98, of 3681 Leesburg Ave., were held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home with the Rev. Don Baker, of First Christian Church, officiating. Mrs. Beathards, the widow of Seaton J. Beathards, died Monday.

Wally Cox death ruled heart attack

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Wally Cox, who caught the public fancy in the earliest era of American television as the mild, bespectacled teacher "Mr. Peepers," once said his role has been lost to history.

Cox, who died of a heart attack in his home Thursday, referred to the prevideotape age when no recordings were made of the 110 episodes of the series that began in 1952 and has been off the screen since 1955.

Cox later starred in another television series, "Hiram Holliday," and appeared in Las Vegas night clubs. Recently, he served as a panelist on the quiz show "Hollywood Squares" and was the voice of "Underdog," a Saturday morning cartoon hero.

Cox — who read, took long walks and collected insects — said he never really enjoyed the role of Mr. Peepers, the intensely shy science teacher. "It was just too rigid and tense," he said.

Another member of the Peepers cast, Tony Randall, said of Cox: "He was not quite the helpless little fellow he seemed to be. He was a strong fellow; but, simply because he did not compete, he was no threat to anyone. Everyone loved him."

As Cox specified before his death, there will be no funeral. His body will be cremated and the ashes scattered at sea.

OEO strategy

clear law and intent that there be an OEO and a Community Action Program."

Instead, the paper advises, the administration should try to get support for cutting off OEO funds in the House and Senate Appropriations committees, "whose interests most closely align with the President's, and, which ... have few members with strong feelings for OEO."

At the same time, the paper says, the administration should try to delay congressional action on the over-all budget for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare, forcing them to be financed by special resolutions in which OEO could be isolated.

The paper lists the senators and representatives who can be considered friendly to the administration plan and suggests that Sens. Bill Brock, R-Tenn., or Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., lead the effort in the Senate.

The paper warns that opposition—"highly vocal, threatening and derogatory"—can be expected from Sens. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., Gaylord Nelson, DWis., Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., and Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio.

Foes blast environment, farm plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's plea to Congress to act promptly on administration environmental and farm legislation has elicited critical responses from three influential Democratic senators.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, urged everyone to ignore the President's environmental message while Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, suggested Nixon's farm proposals be put out to pasture.

"Since the President and his Cabinet have always asked that they be judged on the basis of what they do, and not on the basis of what they say," said Muskie, author of much of the nation's recent environmental legislation, "I think our most appropriate response to this message is to pretend we never heard it."

And Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said Nixon's call for ending farm subsidies "is the final blow in a series of recent decisions by the administration which could destroy our nation's family-farm system."

Woman succumbs after 22 years in deep coma

PIOK, Pa. (AP) — Janet Shouse is dead at the age of 28 after spending nearly three-quarters of her life in a world without awareness.

Twenty-two years ago Janet was a normal child of 6 and on the verge of starting first grade.

Then, on April 23, 1951, she fell from a moving car near the western Pennsylvania town of Butler. Comatose and suffering from a fracture skull, massive brain damage and shattered legs, she was a patient at Butler Hospital for six months following the accident.

Janet died Thursday at Polk State Hospital of pneumonia, an apparent complication of the London flu. She weighed just 85 pounds and was but 4 feet tall when death overtook her.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Snow flurries and chilling temperatures continued over the state through Thursday night, with most of the heavy snow accumulations in the northern section of the state.

Cleveland and the Akron-Canton areas had snowfalls measuring four inches during the night. Only a few snow flurries were reported at Toledo but the National Weather Service said the snow continued unabated in Cleveland during the early morning.

At 6 a.m. the snow measured six inches at Cleveland Hopkins Airport but with reports of from 8 to 9 inches in some of the suburbs.

The snow was reported drifting badly in many areas as strong northerly winds off Lake Erie continue. Winds along the lake shore have reached 25 to 35 miles per hour during much of the night.

Elsewhere in the state snow accumulations were light.

Temperatures continued the drop that began early Thursday. Most temperatures fell between 10 and 20 degrees. However, skies cleared for a time in the northwest, and the mercury fell to near zero.

Little warming can be expected Friday, the weather service said. The combination of a storm off New England and a massive high pressure center in the Upper Great Lakes will force arctic air over the state through the day.

The air flow is expected to ease off Friday night. But the clearing skies will allow temperatures to fall to near zero in almost all parts of the state.

The cold air will remain through Saturday. Sunday is expected to mark the beginning of a period of moderating temperatures.

A warming trend Sunday through Tuesday with a chance of showers about Tuesday. Highs 25 to 35 Sunday, warming to the 40s Tuesday. Lows 5 to 15 early Sunday, warming into the mid and upper 20s early Tuesday.

Deep freeze chills East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arctic cold swept across the Great Lakes today as parts of the East fell into a winter deep freeze while the West enjoyed generally moderate conditions.

The cold streaming over the lakes set off snow squalls that dumped heavy snow into northern Ohio and parts of upstate New York.

Heavy-snow warnings were posted for Indiana, northern Ohio and northern Maine and gale warnings flew on all the Great Lakes and along the Atlantic Coast from Rhode Island to Maine.

High water levels and the strong northerly wind posed a flooding threat to the southern shores of lakes Erie and Ontario.

Travelers were warned that conditions in the central and northern mountains of Arizona were hazardous. Four inches of new snow was expected. Heavy-snow warnings were issued for the mountains of New Mexico and a winter storm watch was out for southeastern Arizona.

Stock prices move upward

Analysts said investors were playing a fence-sitting game, keeping mostly to the sidelines while waiting for firm evidence of a solution to the problems of the dollar and inflation. A positive factor was the apparent stabilization of the dollar in foreign exchange dealings Thursday, brokers said.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up fractionally and gainers held a narrow edge over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Prices on the Big Board included Federal National Mortgage Association, unchanged at 16½, Diversified Mortgage, up ⅜ to 27, Donnelley & Sons, down ⅛ to 23¾, Occidental Petroleum, unchanged at 11⅛, and Texaco, unchanged at 37⅝.

On Thursday selling pressure let up after a steep slide in the previous session, but prices continued to decline. Analysts said signs that the dollar was gaining strength in foreign exchange markets siphoned off some downward pressure on stock prices, but too many uncertainties—both international and domestic—remained to permit an upturn in the market.

The Dow Jones industrial average slipped 6.78 points to 973.13 after a 16.85 decline Wednesday, with volume at a relatively light 13.94 million shares, compared to Wednesday's 16.52 million. Big Board losers outnumbered gainers 937 to 475.

Solons seeking spending curb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is trying again this year to set up effective machinery to control the budget, but past efforts show it to be a thankless task with little chance of success.

But some veteran members are saying things are different this time.

They point to substantial deficit spending the last three years, the weakening of the dollar abroad, the $6-billion balance-of-payments deficit last year and the steady march of inflation through recession and boom periods.

All these, some say, may have convinced a majority that they no longer can deal with the budget on a business-as-usual basis. That basis often has resulted in a spending increase even though the legislators pretended otherwise.

In 1972, for example, Congress cut President Nixon's appropriations requests by $5 billion. But it took other actions that actually would have boosted spending by more than $9 billion if the President had not refused to spend all the money voted.

Congress has made three other major attempts since World War II to set effective controls on spending, and all have failed.

The new effort is being directed by a 26-member Joint Study Committee on Budget Control set up last October when Congress refused to grant Nixon a $250-billion spending ceiling for fiscal 1973. The panel has agreed unanimously on 11 principles which it asserts can bring the budget under control.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., a co-chairman, hailed this as a giant first step and said he is confident the group will be successful in working out details in the next two months.

Under the principles, Congress would fix a spending ceiling each year early in the session and would establish procedures to guarantee the ceiling is kept.

They say problems will come in trying to fill in the details of how the general principles will be carried out.

The key problem, they emphasize, is that there are two budgets and it is almost impossible to get them to mesh.

Each January, the president submits a spending budget for the year starting the next July 1. But Congress holds hearings on the second budget, which sets out how the president wants the money spent.

Much of the spending in any year is from appropriations made by past Congresses. Conversely, much of what Congress approves in a particular year will not be spent until later years.

Jeff Council sets rules for sewer lines

JEFFERSONVILLE — The Jeffersonville Village Council Thursday night approved an ordinance which establishes rules and regulations for the installation of sewer line laterals.

Mayor Donald Morrow said village home owners will receive copies of the rules and regulations within the next two weeks. The rules will serve as a guideline for the manner in which the home owners will be able to connect into the village sewer system.

Morrow pointed out the regulations include a penalty for failure to comply.

Council received report from M.M. Schirtzinger and Associates, Chillicothe, the village is consulting engineers, on the progress of the sewer system construction.

It was reported that work is progressing satisfactorily and that any complaints by property owners should be directed to Lindy Sharrett, village service director, who will work with the individual contractors to take care of the troubles.

Councilmen opened bids for the purchase of a new truck and used backhoe. Morrow said that since a number of bids were submitted for the equipment, a committee of Nelson Baker, Larry Cook and Sharrett was appointed to make a summary of bids and present their recommendation to Council.

A special meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Monday to review the bids on the equipment, Morrow said.

Woman facing murder charges suicide in cell

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 24-year-old woman charged with first-degree murder in the strangulation deaths of her two small children was found hanged to death in her Cuyahoga County jail cell Thursday.

Sheriff's deputies said Nan Mullan hung herself with a bedsheet from an overhead pipe. They said her body was discovered about an hour after she passed a bed check.

She had been charged in the deaths of her daughters, Holly, 2, and 4-month-old Betty Christmas Eve. Police said that Mrs. Mullan phoned police and reported the deaths, telling officers that she killed the children after helping them open their Christmas presents.

Jailers said that she had been despondent and talked constantly of committing suicide.

Devaluation may both hurt, help Americans

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While chances are great that you will barely notice any immediate, perceptible change in your life because of the 10 per cent devaluation of the dollar, there are exceptions.

You may be hurt if:

—You are dependent upon imported products or parts. If you own a German or Japanese automobile that needs repairs your bill might be higher after the dealer's present parts supply runs out and he needs to import more.

—You travel extensively in nations whose currency is now worth more in relation to the dollar. If you are on an unlimited expense account you may not be concerned. But you should be if your account is limited to a daily or total figure.

—You send money back to relatives in "the old country." Or you are an American living abroad, perhaps a retiree who receives a Social Security check from home each month.

—You work for a company that distributes imported products or which manufactures a product containing imported ingredients. Such a company could suffer a competitive disadvantage, mainly because of higher costs.

You could be helped if:

—You work for a company that has been hurt by foreign competition. In theory, at least, your company should now feel a change in competition both at home and abroad.

—You are an employe of a recreation or entertainment company, or any other business that could prosper from an increase in foreign travelers whose money is now worth more than before.

—You hold stock in a corporation which looks attractive to foreign investors more willing now to invest in the United States, mainly because stock prices have been discounted 10 per cent, but also because some companies might become more competitive.

—You hold business or property for sale — anything from a tiny work of art to a manufacturing plant — that now could become more attractive to foreigners with capital seeking to make direct investments in the United States.

—You are an investor in a U.S. company whose borrowing costs might be reduced because of a return flow of dollars.

Among the signs of a new economic world that called for new currency alignments:

—For half a century the United States was known as THE producer of automobiles. No other nation or group of them was close. If anything represented American industrial dominance it was the car.

Now there exists an economic entity known as the Common Market, made up of Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Britain, Ireland and Denmark. Twenty years ago their combined auto output was less than a million.

In contrast, these same nations produced more than 10 million units in 1970. Because Britain and Ireland were not members then you may subtract 1.5 million units and still exceed the U.S. total of 6.5 million for that year.

—In the immediate postWorld War II years it was often said the most needed exportable of the United States, other than its money, was management knowhow.

Senate probe set in motion

The Senate, like the general public, has shown that it badly wishes to know more about the Watergate episode. People want to get to the bottom of this case of political espionage, and are convinced that there is much more to it than has yet been revealed.

Perhaps it would be naive to suggest that the 70 to 0 vote to undertake an investigation indicates a universal desire among senators for full disclosure of who did what (and who ordered it done, and who was aware of it). A few random Republicans may privately entertain a yen to spare their party this embarrassment. On reflection, however, the first paragraph above strikes us as a fair statement of the nation's mood.

There ought to be widespread gratification, therefore, at the Senate's move to tackle the matter on its own now that the criminal trial is over. Though we share this feeling, we do regret that the inquiry will not go somewhat more broadly into the question of political espionage.

Some arguments can be made for the wisdom of keeping the focus narrow; that is, attempting to deal only with Watergate and its immediate ramifications. Apparently these arguments helped to sway the Senate. We concur in this to some extent. To include a probe of alleged Democratic wiretapping at the 1964 and 1968 GOP conventions, as was proposed, would be wandering rather far afield. The issue concerns evident high-level administration involvement in such shenanigans during the 1972 campaign, an issue which should be kept as clearcut as possible.

It is a disappointment, though, that the Senate apparently will not seize the chance to probe not only Watergate but whatever other instances of political espionage last year can be brought to light. Both parties have a stake, aside from their immediate preoccupations, in exposing and then blowing the whistle on such activities.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . by Marquis Childs

Contenders for New York's No. 1 job

NEW YORK — Why anyone would want to take on the horrendous job of Mayor of New York is an unfathomable political mystery. Yet as the present mayor, John V. Lindsay, said the other day, if you want to know who is running just go through the Manhattan telephone directory.

At least a dozen potential candidates, most of them Democrats, have sent up trial balloons. The job pays $50,000 a year with some perquisites, such as Gracie Mansion, a handsome residence, a chauffeur - driven limousine and bodyguards and others paid to stand and wait.

But the mayor is constantly beset by the threat of breakdown, the explosion of graft and corruption and innumerable other ills.

THE EXPECTATION is that Lindsay will run for a third term this fall. He may opt out of the Democratic primary and run on the Liberal party line, thereby circumventing a bruising primary fight. That is how Lindsay won a second term four years ago.

Having turned Democrat this time, Lindsay will face the implacable opposition of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Rockefeller will swing his backing and his wealth to the Republican nominee.

The conviction here is that Rockefeller will run for a fourth term for governor in 1974 when he will be 66 years old. Then two years later he will once again make a try for the presidency, or such is the belief of those who consider the virus of ambition for the highest office in the land incurable once it has entered the bloodstream.

Since 1960 Rockefeller has been jousting unsuccessfully with Richard Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination.

FROM the Lindsay camp a trial balloon went up recently, intimating that the mayor might oppose Rockefeller for governor in '74. But Lindsay is a realist. He believes the governor is capable of spending $15 million out of his own wealth to get reelected. To match that kind of money is all but impossible. That shame of big political spending shows up in the city where a minimal budget for the mayoralty race is $3 million.

Lindsay can show that he has made some progress in cleaning up the city. An able young lieutenant, William Bardel, is director of the Office of Midtown Development. One objective is to shut down the massage parlors which are really houses of prostitution and the porno industry that afflicts the whole Times Square area.

Bardel says he has closed down perhaps a third of the massage operators and a number of the peep shows. At times it is like unraveling a detective mystery. On property owned by Rockefeller interests and Time magazine several massage parlors were operating.

Property managers informed of this were dismayed, since with release several layers down they had been unaware of the nature of the tenants.

A NEW 2,000-room hotel will shortly be announced for midtown, according to Bardel. It will be distinguished in design, with every facility under one roof. And a $150 million convention-exhibition center in what was once known as Hell's Kitchen is to be completed in 1976.

The plague afflicting not only New York but the nation is the exploitation of the crudest kind of sex. A sheer porno film, "Deep Throat," has been playing to capacity audiences at $5 a throw. Made on a budget said to have been $35,000, it has already grossed close to $4 million.

The most sinister development is the reported move by the Mafia to take over the porno industry. The profits are quick and increasingly large and neither the police nor the courts seem to be able to put up any effective barrier to the exploitation of pornography.

If "Deep Throat," which is big-screen sex produced in a slightly more sophisticated fashion, is any criterion the profit margin is a thousand per cent or more. That is tempting bait for the Mafia, only recently exposed here with wholesale indictments returned against some of the allegedly biggest operators.

There is nothing unique about New York. It just happens to be bigger and more conspicuous than any other city suffering from the same ills. And the management, the governance, of New York happens also to be more difficult and more costly than that of any other metropolis.

Postal relief measure

The concept of cheap mail service as an important means of fostering widespread dissemination of ideas is as sound now as it was when it was first put into practice. The beneficial effects of this policy are endangered by postal rate increases which threaten to weaken or even kill off many newspapers and periodicals. The plight of such publications demands a legislative remedy.

A remedy is brewing in Congress. A bill just introduced in the Senate appears soundly designed to soften the blow without seriously hampering the U. S. Postal Service's efforts to make the mails self-sustaining as Congress intends.

Under this proposal, publications would be allowed to spread postal cost increases over 10 years instead of five as originally intended. A postal rate at least one-third lower than the normally applicable rate is authorized for newspapers and periodicals ranging up to 250,000 in circulation. To compensate the U. S. Postal Service for revenue losses resulting from this lower rate and from extension of the transition period, the bill provides for automatic reimbursement out of public funds.

The broadly bipartisan nature of this measure is symbolized by the fact that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts have joined in introducing it. The rationale of the bill is cogently summed up in the following excerpt from a statement by Goldwater at the time it was introduced: "I believe that in general the magazines, newspapers and other publications that would be most harshly affected by the increased rates have a great deal to contribute to American opinion and information." We concur in this, and urge passage of this postal relief measure.

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

"HOW CAN NIXON EXPECT WE CONGRESSMEN TO KEEP OUR CONSTITUENTS HAPPY WHEN WE CAN'T SPEND THEIR MONEY."

Hal Boyle . . . Time for cliche drill

"Oh, goody, goody, teacher. Let's do. But what is a cliche? We forget."

A cliche is a bromidic expression. It is a word or phrase that has become tiresome through too much repetition. If you use too many cliches in your speech or writing, you bore your friends and enemies so much that they either quietly tiptoe away from you or hurry the wrong way around the block to keep from meeting you.

"We understand, teacher. Now tell us how to play the game. We're all ears."

It's quite simple, you little monsters. I simply ask you a question. And you answer it with a cliche. Ready? Here is the first question. What did the unpopular decision of the Supreme Court do to justice?

"Did it defeat the aims of justice?"

"Did it make a mockery of justice, teacher?"

Yes, yes, yes. Of course that's what it did. Now you're swinging class. Now, what kind of fish did the politician try to drag across the trail.

"Wasn't it a red herring he tried to drag across the trail?"

Indeed it was. Now, what is the only kind of a young American who is worthwhile?

"Do you mean a rough-cut, blue-veined 99 and 44 one-hundredths of a per cent young American?"

You are trying to pull your teacher's leg. Do you want a rap on the knuckles? Let's have the answer.

What else but? Now, let's say something nice about motherhood, class. What else does the hand do that rocks the cradle? Does it just hang by its side idly?

"No, no, no, teacher. Of course not. That hand is always busy, because the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world."

Yes, kiddies. You mothers would be proud to hear you say that. Now, do you know what kind of a spectacle of yourself you have made this morning, class?

"An inspiring spectacle, teacher?"

No, a sorry spectacle — because you know so many cliches already that when you grow up you'll be a bore to the world.

"Boo hoo, teacher. You've cut us to the quick — and that's the unkindest cut of all."

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1959, Fidel Castro was sworn in as the prime minister of Cuba.

On this date: In 1804, a force of American servicemen slipped into the North African port of Tripoli and burned a U.S. Navy frigate which had been captured by pirates.

In 1942, in World War II, German submarines fired on oil refineries on Aruba in the Dutch West Indies.

In 1945, American paratroopers started landing on Corregidor in the Philippines during World War II.

In 1967, 13 U.S. helicopters were shot down over South Vietnam.

Ten years ago: In city elections in West Berlin, the Social Democratic party of Mayor Willy Brandt swept to an unexpected landslide victory.

Five years ago: North Vietnam released three captured American pilots, and they were flown to Thailand en route home.

Ohio snow belt raked

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Driving was hazardous on snow-covered highways in northeastern Ohio Thursday night, and strong northerly winds threatened renewed damage to the Lake Erie shoreline.

The National Weather Service forecast up to six inches or more snow accumulation by morning across Ohio's snow belt, from Sandusky eastward. Elsewhere in the state, weather officials said the storm began to let up late Thursday night.

A handful of fatal accidents were reported as highways grew snow-packed, and Cleveland police said they were hard-pressed to keep freeways clear of stalled cars.

Lake winds of up to 25 miles an hour were reported, but the weather service said that storm damage along the coast would depend on how long the lakeedge ice held up.

No damage was reported immediately, and officials said there was no threat of flooding.

Dear Abby:

To bathe or not to bathe furor is at high tide

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What's all this fuss about how often a person should take a bath? My grandpa lived to be 98 years old. He was big and strong and was never sick a day in his life. He bathed only once a year, and that was done in a dam near our farm. Folks used to come from miles around just to watch Grandpa take his yearly bath.

AQUASCUTUM, TEX.

DEAR TEX: Good for grandpa. I'll bet nobody needed directions on how to find him.

DEAR ABBY: You're a dirty old female chauvinist! Your advice on bathing reflects that state of your mind.

What is natural is by no means "dirty" unless the mind is inclined that way. Cleanliness is indeed next to Godliness, but that same body is also the temple of the spirit of that God which dwells in man and womankind. I doubt if that God would dwell in an "unclean" temple.

You belong in India, where your views would allow you to label woman "unclean"- and "untouchable." Go soak your . . .

PEGGY, MARIE, JUDY AND SUSAN (All of the HERALD-MAIL, HAGERSTOWN, MD.)

DEAR ABBY: Like all other human beings, you are entitled to your opinion. However, I think there must be some underlying motive in your statement that "women can't bathe enough."

Are you a secret agent for Proctor and Gamble? Or are you just weird?

"DIRTY GERTIE"

DEAR GERTIE: Neither. I just have a love affair going with soap. And that's no lie!

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to your reader who suggested that bathing regularly was tantamount to effete snobbism and totally unnecessary. It may be I am particularly susceptible to detecting this distinction, but I think I am not alone.

As physical recreation I regularly swim a mile in the campus pool during my lunch hour, and I find it surprisingly easy to distinguish who has and who has not showered before entering the pool and is swimming alongside me. There are many in the latter group who are prominent, important, and respected elder colleagues who would be the first to insist that all long-haired youths "smell bad"-not realizing that they smell far worse.

For what it is worth, I have found this an infallible way to discover who is and who is not nice to be near, the lambs or the old goats, one could say.

LOVES TO SWIN IN SANTA BARBARA

DEAR LOVES: I love for the lambs.

DEAR ABBY: You doll! Your statement, "A man should bathe once a day, and a woman can't bathe often enough" said it all. We are a group of men who must work in close quarters with some woman who do not believe in bathing. We clipped that column and placed it on the desks of the offending females, and believe it or not, things are a lot better around here now. No names please. Just sign this,

"WORKING IN CLOSE QUARTERS IN HIGHLAND PARK, ILL"

DEAR ABBY: I have been wanting to write to you for a long time because I have a very serious problem. I do not want my letter to appear in your column because this is a small town and everybody would know I wrote it.

I know that you say you will answer problems personally if the person send a stamped, addressed envelope, but I want to be sure that if the one I enclosed got lost, another one would not be sent to me with your name on the outside, advertising the fact that I wrote to Dear Abby.

Please hurry your answer in the column, and sign mev. . .

NEEDS YOUR HELP

DEAR NEEDS: You may write to me with absolute assurance that my personal reply will be sent in the envelope you provide, or a plain one. I NEVER send replies in envelopes bearing a hint of my name.

Mrs. Grim honor guest at shower

Mrs. Paul Grim was honored at a layette shower given by Mrs. Richard Patton, Mrs. Marvin Roszmann and Mrs. Gary Shaffer in the Roszmann home.

Others present were Mrs. David Looker, Mrs. William Wilson, Mrs. Charles Brickles, Mrs. Robert Link, Mrs. Byers Shaw, Mrs. R.C. McCoy, Mrs. Lydia LaFollette, Mrs. Naomi Reif, Mrs. Irene Grim, Mrs. Thomas Hancock and Mrs. Grim.

'Family night' planned at Bloomingburg

A 'Family night' was planned by the women of the Bloomingburg United Methodist Church, when the group met in the home of Mrs. Frank Allen White Wednesday. It will be March 18 in the church at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Eli Craig conducted the meeting and Mrs. Robert Huff gave devotions and presented the program. The theme was "Living and Acting in Love."

Refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Willard Bitzer to 20 members.

The next meeting is planned for March 14 in the home of Mrs. Ralph Ashbaugh.

Baptist women hold meeting

The meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Sugar Creek Baptist Church was held in the home of Mrs. Charles Mills Jr., who had the devotions using the theme of "Love." The devotions were closed with prayer.

The quotas assigned the group have all been completed and mailed. The new Baptist Women papers were distributed. Mrs. Larry Noble and Mrs. Mander Boggs will be the visiting team for this month.

The next meeting will be March 1, at the home of Mrs. Olan Bentley.

Mrs. Ed Sanderson, spiritual life chairman, led a discussion on the Book of Job which the group read for the month. Mrs. Sanderson announced the Book of Proverbs would be the reading material for the month.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. It was announced that on Sunday Len Mink, a nationally known TV star, who is a regular on Cincinnati's Nick Clooney show, will be the guest speaker at the worship hour at the church. Mr. Mink will tell of his experiences and provide special music at the 10:45 a.m. service. The service is open to the public.

Matthew Craig is 6 years-old

Mrs. Robert Reno, Hillsboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Craig, of Washington C. H., the grandparents, were present for the occasion.

A pretty white round lemon cake with a large "6" candle centered the cake surrounded by six small burning tapers. Cards and gifts were received by Matthew and pictures were taken on the happy day.

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY — Mrs. Bertha Woods, formerly of 525 N. North St., was guest of honor when members of her family assembled in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Steele, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville, with whom she now resides, for a 90th birthday dinner. She received many gifts, cards and calls for the occasion. One special call came from a granddaughter, Kathleen Sparkman, of Birmingham, Ala. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Winford Sparkman and children, Debbie, Sandy, Keith and Kevin, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Sparkman and daughter, Michelle, Xenia; Mrs. Hoffman Mitchell, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steele and son Nathan, Bloomingburg; Mr. and Mrs. Glidden Sparkman and children, Glidden Jr., Michael and Katrina; Jim Aldridge, Mrs. Charles Hines and children, Danny, Donna and Richard, all of Washington C.H. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoppes, of Springfield, were callers later in the day.

Fayette luncheon

Mrs. William Pentzer welcomed the Fayette Grandmothers Club to her home Thursday, when Mrs. Lee Cleland assisted in the noon luncheon. Mrs. Fred Feldman, president, conducted the meeting and led the Lord's Prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance. Devotions were presented by Mrs. Cleland, who read the inspirational poem, "It's a Blessed Secret."

Mrs. Arnold Wehner and Mrs. Thelma Jones were guests.

Plans for a bake sale later in the spring were discussed and the group voted to give donations to the Heart Fund, Red Cross and the American Cancer Society, Fayette County unit.

Also present were Mrs. Marvene Deskins, Mrs. Carl Garrett, Mrs. L.W. Herbst, Mrs. Louis Thomson and Mrs. Walter Taylor.

Loyal Daughters aid project

Mrs. Russell Knapp was hostess to the Loyal Daughters Class of First Christian Church and Mrs. William Rulon, vice president, conducted the business meeting. "Moment by Moment" was the title of the opening article, and Mrs. Zoe Follis read from I Corinthians: 13. This was followed by reports.

The group voted to give a cash donation to the "Meals on Wheels" project, and planned a 'fun party' for later in April.

During the social hour, Valentines were made, and the winners were Mrs. Ray Rittenhouse, Mrs. Ward Brown and Mrs. Orpha Willis.

Refreshments were served. Present were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Eugene Cook, Mrs. Walter Elliott, Mrs. Follis, Mrs. Ted Merritt, Mrs. Ralph Morris, Mrs. Rulon, Mrs. Rittenhouse, Mrs. Willis and the hostess.

To blanch almonds just cover them with boiling water and let them stand for a few minutes. Drain the nuts and then slip off the brown skins by pressing each nut between thumb and forefinger.

Wedding in Bangkok is announced here

The American Embassy in Bangkok was the setting for the marriage of Miss Micki Ann Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wade, Rt. 1, Greenfield, and Sp4 Danile Alan Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Pierce, 816 Willard St.

The civil ceremony was performed at 10 a.m. Jan. 16 by Miss Aroon Omepion. Witnesses for the wedding ceremony were Wesley E. Jorgensen, American Consul General, and Chalat Meewan, second to the ambassador.

The bride wore a white princess-styled dress with red trim.

The new Mrs. Pierce, a 1971 graduate of Miami Trace High School, attended Ohio State University. Her husband, a 1970 graduate of Washington Senior High School, also attended OSU, and graduated from International Data Processing Institute, in Detroit, Mich., and from Advanced individual training in accounting at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. He is now a comptroller for the U.S. Army.

Their new address is Sp.4 and Mrs. Daniel A. Pierce, 281-52-4816, 7th RRFS, Box 1212, APO SF. 96386.

Cecilian Music Club meets with Mrs. Case

The February meeting of the Cecilian Music Club was held in the home of Mrs. John P. Case.

Mrs. Gerald Wheat, president, opened the meeting by welcoming the 24 members present and introducing three guests, Mrs. Helen Dowler, Mrs. Margaret Case and Mrs. Charles H. Snyder.

In observance of the parade of American music, she read the peom "American for Me" by Henry VanDyke. The hymn-of-the-month "I Would Be True" was sung by the group, accomplished by Mrs. Case at the organ. The scholarship fund was taken.

Mrs. Case, program chairman, assisted by Mrs. David Fabb, Mrs. Jack Brennan and Mrs. Charles Sheridan, presented the guest pianist, Mrs. Snyder. She recently gave a concert in Carnegie Hall in New York. She gave a brief history of each composer.

She played compositions of Edward McDowell, a romantic composer, including "To a Wild Rose" and "Sonata Tragica in G Minor"; also, Charles Griffes, an individualistic and impressionistic composer, whose works she played were "The White Peacock" and "The Fountain of the Acqua Paola"; and George Gershwin, a composer who took jazz to concert. She played his "Three Preludes."

It was a well-presented selection of music.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. G. B. Vance, chairman, Mrs. Sidney Terhune, Mrs. Ralph Waln, Mrs. Walter Morrow, Mrs. Charles Stemple and Miss Mabel Briggs.

The next meeting will be March 13 in the home of Mrs. Grove Davis.

Mrs. Sheeley presents book review of Lincoln

The review of the book "Abraham Lincoln and the Prairie Years" by Carl Sandburg, was presented to members of the Jeffersonville Progress Club, when the group met in the home of Miss Helen Fults. The presentation was made by Mrs. John Sheeley.

Mrs. Sheeley said that nothing new can be said of Mr. Lincoln, but that he was "a mountain of grandeur in soul, and a sea in deep undervoice of mystic loneliness."

A dessert course was served during the social hour. The club will meet Feb. 27 with Mrs. Max Morrow, and Mrs. Charles Seibert will be co-hostess.

Mrs. Pettit DAYP hostess

Mrs. Arthur Pettit was hostess to the DAYP Club when 13 members assembled in her home. Mrs. Ruth Smith, president, conducted a brief business meeting and Mrs. Carrie Wilt and Mrs. Smith gave appropriate readings. A donation was made to the Heart Fund. Cards were signed for Mrs. Jane Carter, a patient in University Hospital, Columbus, and Mrs. Ella Speakman.

Members sewed and crocheted during the afternoon. Refreshments, on a Valentine motif, were served to Mrs. Harold Callender, Mrs. Immel Howard, Mrs. Leonard Blessing, Mrs. Wilt, Mrs. Laverne Morgan, Mrs. Sue Smith, Mrs. Ruth Moore, Mrs. Howard Williams, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Charles Curtin, Mrs. Clifton Roberts and Mrs. Carl Wilt.

The next meeting will be March 13.

Beta Omega chapter meets

Mrs. Loretta George was hostess to the Beta Omega chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, for the February meeting.

It was announced that tickets for the quarter of beef drawing are available from any member. Plans were reviewed for the dance to be held by the three chapters of ESA, the Alpha Theta, Beta Omega and Delta Rho.

Guests visit Homemakers

Four guests were welcomed by the Bloomingburg Homemakers when the group met with Mrs. Zoe Garinger for a carry-in noon luncheon Thursday. They were Mrs. Lena Trotter, of Illinois, who is a guest of Mrs. Daisy Gossard, in Washington C. H., this week, Mrs. Elmer Welch, of Bloomingburg, and Mrs. Cecil Smith and Mrs. Bess Lanum, of Washington C. H. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Lucy Randolph and Mrs. Jean Brown.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Nora Oswald. Members answered roll call by naming historical places which they have visited.

Mrs. John Gibeaut will be the March 15 hostess, when a noon carry-in luncheon will be featured.

Soup's on

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

WHETHER it's served as an appetite-arousing first course, or whether it's hearty enough to appear as a main dish, a soup should be knowingly spiced. Certain spices are especially good in hearty soups — allspice berries, bay leaf, garlic, celery and onion products, black and white pepper. For chicken soup, consider ginger, tarragon, rosemary or nutmeg. Thyme, saffron and mace are among the spices that build up the flavor of fish and seafood soups.

On a cold day, Hot Pot Soup hits the spot. The trick is to let a beef shin simmer slowly for several hours to extract all its brothy goodness. Twenty minutes before cooking time's up, add an assortment of vegetables to the pot.

HOT POT SOUP

2½ pounds beef shin
Cold water to cover
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon whole allspice
⅛ teaspoon whole black pepper
2 whole red peppers
2 cups dic d carrots
2 cups diced turnips
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, broken-up
1 package (9 ounces) frozen cut green beans
2 tablespoons onion flakes
2 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons cold water

In a large saucepan combine beef shin, water, salt, allspice, black pepper and red pepper. Cover and simmer 3 hours.

Remove meat from soup and strain stock. Cut meat from bones and return to stock along with vegetables. Cook until vegetables are tender, about 20 minutes.

Mix flour with water. Stir into soup and cook until slightly thickened, about 5 minutes.

Makes 3 quarts.

This delicious version of New England Chowder, is a creamed fish soup flavored with onion, vegetable flakes, garlic powder, black pepper and bay leaf. It's a savory concoction for a winter day.

FISHERMAN'S CHOWDER

½ cup onion flakes
3 1-3 cups water, divided
2 tablespoons oil
2 cups sliced potatoes
¼ cup mixed vegetable flakes
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon garlic powder
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons flour
2 small bay leaves
1 pound frozen fish fillets, thawed and cut into chunks
½ pound peeled and deveined shrimp

Rehydrate onion flakes in 1-3 cup of the water for 10 minutes.

In a large saucepan heat oil. Add onion and saute 5 minutes. Remove from heat; add remaining 3 cups water, potatoes, vegetable flakes, salt, garlic powder and black pepper. Bring to boiling point. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 15 minutes or until potatoes are almost tender.

Woman who uses maiden name says she's not 'hung up' on titles

By JOY KRAUSE
Milwaukee Journal Writer

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — "When a woman marries, she doesn't have to become a "Mrs. Him," said a happily married Madison woman who legally resumed use of her maiden name.

Stephanie Twin was Mrs. Richard Smuckler for three years before she appealed to Dane County Circuit Judge Norris Maloney to restore her original name. She had the full support of her husband.

She now uses the title "Ms." because she feels that women should not be labeled by their married status. "Ms." denotes only that the bearer is female. "If people have to use a title, that's it," she said. "But I'm not hung up on titles. I'd rather be called Stevie."

With assistance from University of Wisconsin law student Linda Roberson and lawyer Alan Koritzinsky, Ms. Twin obtained the legal name change and at the same time learned of two Wisconsin state attorney general rulings of 1902 and 1931 which specify that a person can use any name as long as there is no attempt to defraud.

Judge Maloney ordered the change because he said he had never heard of any law requiring a married woman to take her husband's name.

Richard Smuckler not only agreed with his wife's determination to resume use of her maiden name, but he had encouraged her to make the change a year ago.

"My husband wanted this — he didn't like making me become a little Mrs. Richard Smuckler," she said. "and he's happy to have his name back too."

"On principle, I'm personally opposed to having a 'Mrs.' attached to my name, just as a woman might be opposed to a 'Mr.' being attached to hers," Smuckler said.

"My husband and I have the same goals in life," Ms. Twin said. "We share life together as two human beings — not as homemaker and breadwinner."

The couple agreed that the custom of a woman assuming her husband's name was a remnant of a bygone era when a wife was viewed as part of a man's property.

"Your name is symbolic of your own identity," Smuckler said. "People want their personal identity. It's something that both men and women are going to have to think about. We're happy with the way we're living our life. We're just acting out what we believe in."

Both are American history graduate students at the University of Wisconsin. Smuckler is working on his doctorate and his wife is completing her master's degree.

The university refused to change the policy on the use of married women's names on school records until it was threatened recently with a class action law suit, Ms. Twin said. A married woman student asked the university to change its records from her married name to her maiden name. Her request was initially denied. The change was made after a lawyer said he would file a lawsuit.

Her name change is a legal and social symbol of her values and convictions, Ms. Twin said. For most married women, she said, barriers to resuming use of their maiden names are psychological rather than legal. "It's not the ordinary thing to do, but I'd encourage other women to do it. You are known by your name for 20 years and it means something," she said.

Although she was apprehensive about reaction to her name change, Ms. Twin said that many people were sympathetic. "I was kind of afraid to tell people at first. I thought most people would feel I was silly."

When she is asked why she switched back to her maiden name, she answers with a question, "Why change your name in the first place?"

Some people try to stereotype her as a women activist, she said. "I'm in the movement," she said. "I've marched. I'm not masculine or ugly. But, people like stereotypes. If you don't fit the stereotype they write you off," she said.

The couple has decided to hyphenate the last name of their children, Twin-Smuckler. "When they come of age they can choose either or neither," Ms. Twin said.

She is specializing in women's history and will begin work for a doctorate in the subject at Rutgers University. Her husband will complete his doctoral dissertation there.

"Most of history is men's history — politics and wars," Ms. Twin said. "I'm asking, 'Where were the women? What did they think?' "

Her research has not been complicated by a lack of information about historical women, she said. "The material is there. The problem is that no one asks the questions."

GINGERED CHICKEN SOUP

2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed chikden broth, diluted
1 can (5½ ounces) chicken, slivered
1 teaspoon ground ginger
¾ cup onion flakes
2-3 cup water
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 can (1 pound) bean sprouts, drained
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

In a medium saucepan bring chicken broth to the boiling point. Add chicken and ginger. Reduce heat and simmer covered for 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, rehydrate onion flakes in water for 10 minutes. In a medium skillet heat salad oil. Stir in onion and bean sprouts; saute for 5 minutes. Add sauteed vegetables to soup. Ladle soup into bowls or mugs and garnish with sliced egg.

Serves 6.

MISS DEBORAH J. ORR

May wedding planned

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur T. Orr, of New Holland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Jean, to Gary Fountain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fountain, Rt. 1, Washington C. H.

Both are former graduates of Miami Trace High School.

Her fiance is a graduate of Bliss College and now is employed by Greyhound Food Management, in Columbus.

An open-church wedding will be an event of May 20.

Grades to Grads informed on venereal disease

The results of such infections are appalling and the extent of infections appear to be growing at an alarming rate, Mrs. Hidy said. Questions were answered throughout the program.

The business of the evening concerned the philanthropic project for the year. Baby clothing was brought so that it might be delivered to the hospital soon.

Mrs. Richard Hughes was welcomed as a new member. Appropriate dress for the next meeting was described, since it will be a visit to the Health Spa.

March 30 is the date set for the dessert smorgasbord and Style Show.

Following adjournment, the group enjoyed a social hour.

Ladies bridge winners named

Winners at the weekly ladies bridge-luncheon, held at the Country Club, were Mrs. Stanley Chitty, Mrs. Grace Goodwin and Mrs. Wayne Shobe.

Spring flowers were on the bridge tables and guests were Mrs. Chitty, Mrs. Frank Alexander and Mrs. Renald Robinson. There were 21 present for the occasion.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. McKinley Kirk, chairman, Mrs. Carl Elberfeld and Mrs. B. M. Slagle.

Buena Vista Aid reports activities

The Buena Vista Ladies Aid voted to donate to the Heart Association and the local kindergarten class, when members met in the Buena Vista Township Hall Wednesday. Following a carry-in luncheon and social hour, the group sang a hymn accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Anders at the piano.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. Anders, and Mrs. Bina Rude gave the invocation.

For roll call, members named their favorite salad. Activities reported included 18 cards and 14 flowers sent, 13 calls, and seven donations.

Three guests, Mrs. Manford Hamilton, Mrs. Ocie Smith and Master Terry Johnson were present, along with members Mrs. Nathaniel Blackstone, Mrs. Noah Lee, Mrs. Harlan Johnson, Mrs. Rude, Mrs. Albert Haines, Mrs. Harold W. Haines, Mrs. Anders and Mrs. Eddie Corzatt.

Mrs. Corzatt was in charge of the program and each member participated by giving a reading. Mrs. Blackstone was winner of a contest and Mrs. Eddie Corzatt read a "Valentine Prayer."

The next meeting is scheduled for March 14 in the Township House and Mrs. Rude will be program chairman.

To unmold gelatin salads and desserts successfully, rinse mold with cold water or brush lightly with salad oil before pouring in the gelatin mixture. To unmold, run a thin knife or spatula around the edge. Hold mold in very hot water up to the rim a few seconds. Invert over serving dish and give mold a quick hard shake.

Mr. Lynch guest speaker for Legion Auxiliary

Dale Lynch, history teacher at Washington Junior High School, was guest speaker at the Unit 25, American Legion Auxiliary meeting held in the home of Mrs. Philip Binzel. Mrs. William Williams opened the meeting in regular form and Miss Verna Williams, chaplain, offered prayer.

Mr. Lynch had attended the Valley Forge Freedom Foundation's annual Teacher's Seminar held in July at Valley Forge, Pa. He was one of nine teachers in Ohio attending the Seminar and all were sponsored by the Department of Ohio American Legion Auxiliary.

The Foundation is located on 105 acres in Valley Forge Park and was founded in the mid-1940's for the purpose of granting awards and recognition to those who furthered the cause of freedom in this country. The Foundation, which has a college-like atmosphere, consists of two dormitories, cafeteria, classrooms and many excellent libraries.

Three seminars are offered each summer to teachers of history and social studies and each lasts for three weeks. Class lectures are held each morning and afternoon followed by small group discussions. A week of study was devoted to each of the following subjects: philosophy of freedom, internal threats to national security and external threats to national security.

Mr. Lynch noted that there were teachers from every state in the union. They attended the lectures, and visisted historical sites in Valley Forge and Philadelphia.

A memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Williams in memory of the late Mrs. Ray Mershon, a member.

Mrs. Lawson Rhoads reported that she and Miss Williams made the monthly visit to Chillicothe VA Hospital whey were served refreshments to 54 patients. Cookies were baked by Miss Williams, Mrs. Rhoads, Miss Nell Fogle, Mrs. Ed Warning and Miss Mary Lee Warning.

The monthly birthday party for patients Thursday was attended by Mrs. Rhoads and Mrs. Chester Clay. Cakes were brought by Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Ned Kinzer Jr. and Mrs. Williams..

Mrs. Binzel, Americanism chairman, announced that six delegates will be sent to the 1973 Girls' State. The co-sponsoring organizations are the Lioness Club, Business and Professional Women's Club and Phi Beta Psi Sorority.

The American Legion newsletter, "Firing Line" will again be distributed among the libraries, physicians and dentists offices for the public interest.

Mrs. Charles Williams, district Americanism chairman, reported on the Auxiliary's annual mid-winter conference in January, held at the Neil House in Columbus, with 463 delegates from throughout the state attending.

Mrs. R.B. McCoy Jr. was a special guest. Mrs. Binzel was assisted in the hospitalities by Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Ray Jennings.

CCL husbands' party

Members of Alpha Child Conservation League, their husbands and friends, were entertained Wednesday evening in Mahan Hall by eight students from the Washington C. H. and Greenfield schools of karate. Their instructor, Al Conaway, was also a guest.

Students giving demonstrations were Annetta Smith, Glenna Haithcock, Tom McClung and Don Ladd, of Washington C. H., and Debbic Rickman, Carol Cagg, Roger Dillard and Bill Thomas, of Greenfield.

A smorgasbord dinner preceded the demonstrations and all of the men were presented crowns to wear. Mrs. Richard Waters gave the invocation and Mrs. Paul Ream the devotions.

The committee for the evening was composed of Mrs. Kenneth Warner, chairman, Mrs. Ream, Mrs. Allen O. McClung and Mrs. Waters.

The group was seated at tables which formed a "U" and a Valentine theme prevailed. Eight Valentine "Trees" centered the tables, along with heart-shaped candies and hearts. At each place setting was a miniature box of chocolates. On the officers' table was an arrangement of red and white carnations.

Those present were guests, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Alkire, Mr. and Mrs. William Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dill, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Fries, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurtt, Mrs. Willard Greer, Mrs. Margaret Helfrich, Mrs. John Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Liston, Mr. and Mrs. Russell McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. George Naylor, Mrs. Clyde Palmer, Mrs. Allen McClung, Mrs. Howard Thompson, Mrs. Ream, Mr. and Mrs. Waters and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Whiteside.

Mrs. Hizer conducts Auxiliary meet

Mrs. John Hizer, president of the Eagles Auxiliary, conducted the regular meeting of the Auxiliary when 26 members and a guest, Mrs. Frances Bauer, of Indiana, were present.

An invitation was extended to the group from the Linden Auxiliary for Feb. 18, when the guest speaker will be the state president.

A 'Dime a Ladle' dinner was discussed. The date will be set and committees appointed at the next meeting.

Eight applications were voted on and accepted to membership.

A potluck supper will be held at the next meeting, at 6 p.m., Feb. 26, with initiation to follow at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Mildred Ivers received the attendance award and Mrs. Hazel Bonner the secret package.

Mrs. John Phillips, chaplain, was in charge of the closing.

True Blue class meets

The True Blue class of Grace United Methodist Church met Tuesday in the church parlor with 11 members, Rev. and Mrs. Everad Broberg and Mrs. Roy Wipert present.

Mrs. Mary Crone, president, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Robert Case gave devotions by reading the Sermon on the Mount.

Reports were read and approved and correspondence read. Mrs. Mary Brownlee, Mrs. Pauline Lewellen and Mrs. Carrie Lucas were named to the nominating committee to present a slate of officers at the next meeting in April.

Mrs. Dorothy Davis introduced Mrs. Doris Wipert, who gave an interesting account of the Songfests that they hosted in the 1940's and 50's, and as speaker in the years of the Farmers Institutes.

The Rev. Mr. Broberg closed with prayer and all were invited to the dining room for refreshments, carrying out the Valentine theme.

Kim Looker guest of honor

A surprise birthday party honoring Miss Kim Elaine Looker, was held in the home of Mrs. Danny Thomas, for her 18th birthday. Assisting Mrs. Thomas were Kim's mother, Mrs. Helen Looker and Mrs. Dale Allen.

Kim received many pretty gifts.

WOM enrolls two new members

Moose Hall was the setting for a meeting of the Women of the Moose Wednesday evening, with two new members enrolled. Mrs. Georgianna Evans and Mrs. Joyce Dilley accepted the obligation and Mrs. Frances Bauer, of Indiana, was a special guest for the evening.

Mrs. Jennie Minshall was winner of the door prize.

The group voted to give donations to Moosheart for stationary and to the Moose Easter fund.

The Moose Sweetheart Dance is planned for 8 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Saturday in Moose hall, for members and their guests.

Mrs. George Gray, chaplain, was in charge of closing the meeting and refreshments were served.

Bidding Quiz

1. ♠ AJ7 ♥ KQ93 ♦ KJ5 ♣ 872
2. ♠ AJ532 ♥ KQ987 ♦ AQ4 ♣ —
3. ♠ KQ6 ♥ AJ9 ♦ KQ7 ♣ Q953
4. ♠ AKQJ9 ♥ — ♦ J852 ♣ A763
5. ♠ QJ92 ♥ Q985 ♦ J ♣ Q854

1. One heart. It is tempting to bid two notrump (forcing), but this would violate a cardinal principle, namely, that the first step in constructive bidding is to explore the possibility of a major suit fit.

It is certainly possible for partner to have four hearts and find it inconvenient to bid them over two notrump, and you might never locate the heart fit. Responding with a heart does not preclude the possibility of winding up in notrump, but responding with two notrump may forever lose the chance of finding a 4-4 heart fit.

2. One spade. To respond one spade, instead of two, may seem a huge underbid, but that is the right response opposite a club bid by partner. Had partner opened with a diamond instead of a club, a jump-shift to two spades would be entirely in order. The hand is worth much more, for both game and slam purposes, when partner bids a diamond.

3. Three notrump. This shows 16 or 17 points, notrump distribution (nearly always 4-3-3-3), and strength in the three unbid suits. Three notrump is by no means a signoff bid; on the contrary, it suggests a slam if partner has significantly more than a minimum opening bid.

4. Two spades. With a self-sufficient suit and a fit in partner's clubs, it is best to alert partner at once to the possibility of a slam by jump-shifting to two spades — even though there are only 15 high-card points. Over an opening heart bid you would respond only one spade, following the general principle of discounting your values when a misfit exists and adding to your values when a fit is known to exist.

5. One heart. You have the right values for a raise to two clubs — showing 6 to 9 points and at least four clubs — but it is nevertheless best to inaugurate the search for a major suit fit.

You bid hearts, rather than spades, in order to achieve the maximum chance of finding a 4-4 major fit. If you were to respond one spade, you might never find the heart fit if it existed. By naming hearts first, you leave room for partner to locate either major suit fit in the one level.

Ohio Perspective

'Recruiting Committee' just show

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr., won his "recruiting committee" to attract new candidates to the Ohio Republican fold for 1974, but the victory may be hollow.

The committee may never meet.

On the surface, Sen. Taft appeared to win his fight with the Ohio GOP organization. He feared former Gov. James A. Rhodes, who has his own slate for 1975, still controlled the state committee.

But, it looked less like a power collision and more like public relations after the fact.

During a news conference, John S. Andrews, GOP state chairman, said he didn't know when the 11-member committee would meet. Another committee member may have put it into perspective later the same day:

"It will never meet, and it will never make a recommendation," he told a colleague.

Primary aim of the committee's formation, it appeared, was to stop Taft-Rhodes feuding, a bitter hangover from their 1970 primary fight which Taft won.

Both Taft and Andrews, at separate news conferences, said they doubted the new committee would make endorsements.

The idea, it appeared, was to publicize new names and new faces who could possibly be candidates.

Other than that, it is nothing," said one member of the State Central Committee. "The man with the grass roots strength will still call the shots."

Rhodes believes he's that man. But, so does Taft, State Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens and others.

The firm got a $200,000 contract earlier this month to promote the 1973 Ohio State Fair. It had already handled $193,583 worth of Department of Economic and Community Development business.

The figure is expected to jump another $32,000 by the end of the fiscal year June 30. Marcus is in line to get $260,000 of that department's business during the next biennium.

Donald H. Marcus, agency president, said the firm would actually realize $30,000 — or 15 per cent — out of the state fair contract. Other Marcus commissions — past or planned — will total about $58,000.

Some zoologists place pandas in the bear family; others say they are related to raccoons, National Geographic says. Smithsonian Institution scientists believe they belong in a separate family of their own.

Crash sounds alarm

A towmotor at Redman Industries, 200 Kenskill Ave., hit a fire alarm conduit Thursday afternoon, sending firemen scurrying to the Industrial Park plant. The alarm sounded at 2:25 p.m. but there was no blaze, firemen reported.

Probationary sentence in Redman theft case

William Suiter, 31, Staunton, was sentenced to 30 days in the Fayette County jail and was placed on probation for three years when he appeared before Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn W. Coffman on a grand jury indictment of grand larceny.

A sentence of one to seven years in the Ohio Penitentiary was suspended.

Suiter was indicted by the grand jury in January on three counts of grand larceny involving the theft of dinette sets, living room furniture and electrical fixtures from Redman Industries, Inc., 2000 Kenskill Ave. He was arrested Nov. 18 after Washington C. H. and Hillsboro officers found an estimated $5,000-$12,000 in materials in a Hillsboro house.

A nolle prosequi motion was accepted on the other two indictments.

JUDGE COFFMAN listed 15 terms in placing Suiter on probation to Sheriff Donald L. Thompson.

The probation terms include that he make restitution for any losses sustained as a result of the larceny and return all property belonging to Redman Industries which has not been disposed of or destroyed.

Suiter also was ordered to obey all laws, be industrious and discreet in his conduct, associate with no persons of questionable character nor persons on parole or probation and avoid all places of ill repute. He was also ordered to abstain from the use of intoxicating beverages and all narcotics and refrain from all forms of gambling.

Judge Coffman also ordered Suiter to make every effort to obtain and remain employed and not leave the state without the written permission of the probation officer. He was ordered to pay court costs and to report to the probation officer at such times as the officer determines.

Len Mink booked at rural church

Nationally known TV star Len Mink, presently a regular on Nick Clooney's show in Cincinnati, will be guest speaker during the worship hour Sunday at the Sugar Creek Baptist Church, three miles northwest of Washington C. H. on U. S. 35.

Mink had his own weekly show for nearly two years with the Scripps - Howard Broadcasting Co. He has appeared on Johnny Carson's "Tonight Show," Merv Griffin's show and the Mike Douglas show. He has had 32 concerts with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, including the lead in a recent world premiere.

He will tell the Sugar Creek congregation of what he considers a "miraculous cure" of a blood disease he had developed and his reasons for accepting Christ. He will also provide special music at the 10:45 a.m. service. The public is invited.

Fayette Airport News

By JUDY DENNIS

JAN. 28 THROUGH FEB. 3

We had a very bad beginning this week, with rain all day Sunday, turning to freezing rain and snow. This left our runway a shining mirror of ice by Monday morning - pretty but useless. By late afternoon, however, the runway was back in use, and we were back in business.

After phoning to check our weather conditions here, Roger Booco came in from South Carolina in the University's Cessna 320. Their 320 is a beautiful twin-engine plane with a red fighting cock painted on the tail. Roger picked up an athletic coach in Cincinnati, flew to Pickaway County Airport where he picked up a ballplayer, and then came here where he refueled for the return trip.

Bill instructed Tom Preston on commerical maneuvers, and Curt Hiser and Keith Houghton were fooling around in the Cherokee. When Keith and Curt get together, I think there is more horseplay than practicing!

Ten students - Elmer Reed, Barbara Abernathy, Jim and Shirley Vess, Louis Poole, Gary Smith, Charlie Dodds, Don Jackson, Deane Carter and Marvin Cook completed their private pilot ground school class Monday evening. Dr. Jack Yager, already a Private Pilot, also took the schooling as a refresher course.

Tuesday a DeHaviland 125 (jet) came from Willow Run, Mich., with executives from the Hoover Ball Bearing Co. The passengers were met by officials of the Greenfield Plastics Co. I was standing outside when the jet took off for the return trip, and it seemed I could feel the ground vibrate with it's tremendous surge of power on take-off.

IN THE afternoon, Gary Meyers, Greenfield, flew solo, practicing his take-offs and landings, and Barbara Abernathy received instruction - also on take-offs and landings.

Millard French took Deborah Sears for an evening flight which she stated she thoroughly enjoyed.

It was a particularly nice day Wednesday, and we were deluged with transient aircraft. I didn't keep track of everybody, but among the visitors were people from Ocean City, Md., in a Cherokee Arrow; men from Erie, Pa., in an Aztec, and "Shag" Ulen and his brother who flew here from our Ross County Airport. Doc Pfersick and Jim Vess flew to Madison County Airport to check on Jim's plane which is getting a new coat of paint. Barbara Abernathy flew dual with Bill, and Kenny Smith, Doc Yager and Louis Poole were each flying solo. Kenny and Doc were flying just for fun, but Louis was practicing because he hopes to be flight-tested before long.

The rest of the week was bad weatherwise, so we had no flying. However, we are pleased to report one accomplishment - Keith Houghton received the results of his instructor's examination and passed with flying colors.

FEB. 4 THROUGH FEB. 10

Sunday was a happy, busy day. Several pilots and their friends and families were enjoying the nice weather. When they weren't flying, they were in the office enjoying the "tall stories" and usual kidding and horseplay that goes on around here.

Don Morrow took Ralph Detty and two of his sons for a fliight, and Bob Noftsger, Steve Ingle and Rex Hurless flew here from Haas Airport in Bob's Cessna 170. Billy Boggs came down in his Taylorcraft from Grove City and picked up Keith Houghton for some aerobatics. Gary Meyers graduated from practicing take-offs and landings, to the practice area where Bill showed him how to do several maneuvers. Dr. Pfersick was flying his Skyhawk, and Howard Wright and Jim Roberds, VA students, were each flying solo.

Tom Romph returned from a trip to Cleveland, where he, Mrs. Romph, and their little son had gone to visit Tom's family. Tom had scheduled this trip for about three different weekends previously, but had had to cancel due to bad weather.

Charlie Dodds was flying solo, and Bill gave a flight test to Ron Moore, a student from Greene County Airport.

Monday surprised us, as it is usually rather quiet after the weekend. However, our two planes were in the air a total of nine hours. We are still short an aircraft, as one of our Cessnas is undergoing an engine over-haul.

Students flying solo were Ron Fitzwater and Ken Mathias, each on cross-country flights, and Steve Warner and Louis Poole, local flights.

Bill flew dual with Barb Abernathy, and also flight-tested Bill Housch of Hillsboro, issuing him a private license. Local pilots owning their own aircraft were also flying.

A new student, Earl Webb from Dayton, flew here in his Citabria to check with Bill on dual instruction in a "tail dragger". This is an aircraft with two main wheels in front and a small wheel under the tail. Earl has been with us every day since, so I'm beginning to believe he's pretty dedicated. Earl does a nice job flying, and should be ready for his flight test before long.

The rest of the week, until Friday, was uneventful. On Friday, Keith Houghton flew to Columbus to get his last written exam out of the way. This one was the Federal Aviation Agency's instrument flight exam. He is now anxiously watching the mail for his results and wondering "Did I pass or flunk?"

Kenny Smith, Millard French and Steve Warner were each flying, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pendergraft flew to Port Columbus for dinner at the Dobbs House.

FRIDAY EVENING, Bill and I drove to the Ross County Airport where we started another Private Pilot Ground School class. I worked on FAA and VA student records for our Ross County

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SATURDAY, FEB. 17

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Your mate or business partner may have some definite ideas about basic security requirements. Even if you do not agree at first, keep an open mind. A good compromise is possible.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

You may feel the weight of pressure in certain occupational issues. Don't try to force your own views. Listen — and learn. Superiors will be impressed.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

A complex situation indicated. Play for time until certain factors are cleared up. This is one time where the "waiting game" will prove beneficial.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

You MUST stay on the beam now. Some practical issues demand attention and you may have a tendency to skip details. This could be costly.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Greater recognition for your efforts indicated. Shake off a current tendency toward self-doubt. Don't forget: You are a born leader. Prove it!

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Check all documents, contracts, legal papers generally with even more care than usual. Some misleading, even outrightly deceptive practices call for extreme caution.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

If you have been planning any changes in your home or property, now is a good time to start making them. Family will not only approve — but will help.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Friends will be especially helpful now — especially in being able to supply some much-needed data. They will also be able to give you certain objective insights which will prove invaluable in the future.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

A good day for finalizing agreements. Some unusual background activity will provide the spark that hurries matters through more quickly than expected.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Take nothing for granted now and avoid jumping to conclusions. What seems a certainty could be otherwise. One more admonition: Don't try to force issues.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Routine and detail work will probably bore you now, so get busy on a creative project you've had in mind for some time. Influences stimulate original ideas.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

A better day for completing old projects than for beginning new ones. In leisure time, devote yourself to a creative hobby.

YOU BORN TODAY are highly intuitive, imaginative and creative in your leanings. You like people and aim to please, which you do very charmingly and sincerely. You are active, mentally and physically. Using all your faculties, you should have a most happy and gainful life. You surmount obstacles easily and have the power to stride rapidly from small beginnings to outstanding successes — with many friends rooting for you. Many artists, statesmen, scientists, writers and decorators have been Aquarius-born.

HAPPY HOMEMAKERS 4-H

Seventeen Happy Homemakers of the 4-H Club met in the Buena Vista Township Hall, when vice president, Jo-Retta Brown, conducted the business meeting. Troilee McNeal led the pledges. Reports were heard and three new members welcomed.

Mrs. Hardman presented the possibilities of projects which the girls might take this year. Money-making projects were discussed and the members voted to sell candy.

Donuts and hot chocolate were served by the advisers, Mrs. Hardman and daughter, Penny.

New officers will be elected at the next meeting. Vicki Patton and Donna Smith will bring refreshments.

Local school principals at state meeting

Seven Miami Trace and Washington City School District administrative officials are attending the 15th annual professional conference of the Ohio Association of Elementary School Principals in Columbus. The conference opened Thursday and continues through Saturday.

Miami Trace District principals attending are Jean Creamer, New Holland; Gordon McCarty, Jeffersonville; Miss Joan Black, Bloomingburg, and Glenn Hutchison, Wayne and Wilson Elementary Schools. Attending from the city district are Hugh Rea, elementary coordinator; Robert Angus, Belle Aire principal, and Lewis Parrett, principal at Rose Avenue and East Side schools. Mrs. June Slaughter, supervisor of elementary education in the Miami Trace District, is attending the Southeast Regional International Reading Association Conference being held in Louisville, Ky.

The conference in Columbus is being held at the Ohio Expositions Center. Mike Wallace, CBS newsman, was the featured speaker at a banquet Thursday night.

The theme of the meeting is "Ideas Into Action." Delegates will attend a series of clinics on Friday, and on Saturday officers of the organization will be installed.

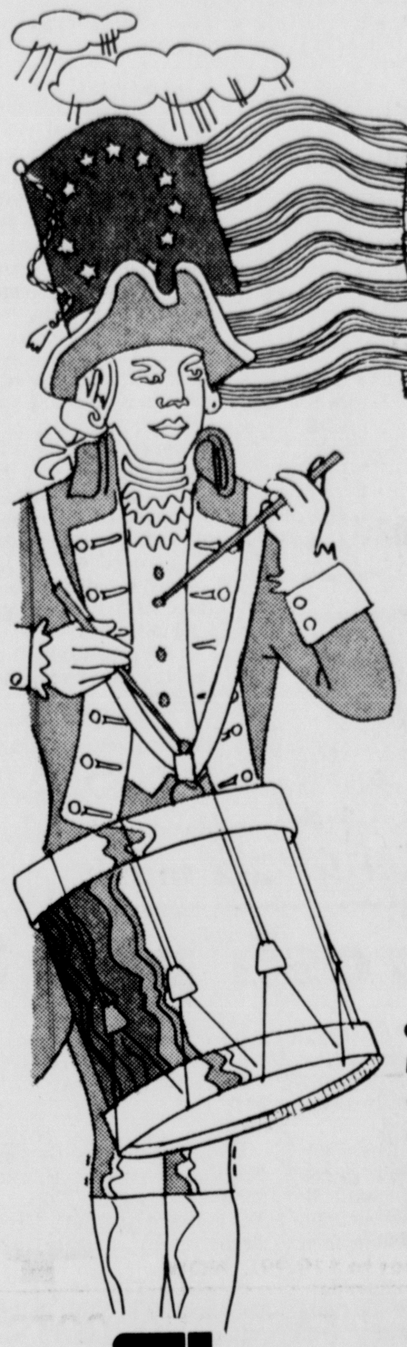
Washington's Birthday



First In The Hearts Of His Countrymen...

George Washington . . . our first president, "Father of his country" . . . set standards for Americans that we revere today as we have throughout our nation's life: honesty, initiative, perseverence, courage, fair play and the democratic ideal. He could have been a king. He chose to be an example.

On Washington's Birthday, we honor a great man, a great country and a great concept: freedom to grow. Enjoy it.

Stage set for key showdown tonight

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Sports Editor

The stage is set for the show of strength between Washington C.H. and Miami Trace tonight at the WSHS gymnasium.

A bulging at the seams crowd is expected for the contest in which at least a share of the 45th South Central Ohio League Basketball championship will be at stake. It'll be SCOL history, since the two teams have never met to decide a title issue when the loser would become the unlucky team.

The game, which was destined to have a special meaning all along, will be the regular season finale for both Washington C.H. and Miami Trace.

OFFICIALS AT Washington C.H. are braced for a capacity crowd which conceivably match all Fayette County basketball attendance records.

Bob Bane, athletic director at Washington C.H., said an extra set of bleachers has been installed in the upper level of the WSHS gym, but school officials will close admissions when they feel the gym is in a safe maximum capacity. Doors open at 5:45 p.m.

Parents of the Washington C.H. senior players and cheerleaders will be honored in ceremonies between the reserve and varsity games, and the Fayette County 'Queen of Hearts' will be announced at halftime of the varsity game. The reserve game starts at 6:30 p.m.

Friday's 26th renewal of the mythical Fayette County basketball championship series is the feature attraction on the final three-game SCOL schedule of the campaign.

In other action, Circleville's Tigers will be hoping to spear a share of the SCOL title when they embark on the most dreaded road trip among league teams at Greenfield, and Wilmington entertains a dangerous Hillsboro team.

Miami Trace will risk a glittering six-game winning string when head coach Jan Stauffer's Panthers and the title-hungry Washington C. H. bunch match identical 6-3 SCOL records in tonight's 8 p.m. showdown.

The Panthers, who have been SCOL co-champions only one other time in their interscholastic history, will be shooting for a fifth straight win inside the tighest league sweepstakes in years.

WASHINGTON C. H. has dropped two of its last three SCOL outings in a bid to hoist its first undisputed league pennant since the 1955-56 season.

But it would take a Greenfield win to produce an outright title for the survivor of the Washington C.H.-Miami Trace skirmish.

Greenfield, which is suffering a five-game tailspin, will be hoping to crack a nine-game nosedive inside the SCOL when head coach John Lawhorn's Circleville bunch comes calling for tonight's bout.

Only one game is on Saturday night's abbreviated docket involving SCOL teams as Hillsboro travels to Madison Plains.

A comical start

There have been some unusual happenings at junior high basketball games throughout the years, but the beginning of the Washington C. H. - Mt. Logan eighth grade contest at Chillicothe Thursday night has to rate among the strangest.

The game, for instance, could have ended in a 2-0 forfeit in Washington C. H.'s favor if it hadn't been for some thoughtful sportsmanship on the part of Coach Ken Hays.

Thursday's contest also featured an obvious violation of rules after an honest, but embarrassing mistake on the part of the officials.

It's was a pretty comical way to begin a game and here's the way Hays described it to this writer . . .

THE LION Cubs took the floor for the pre-game warm-up drills clad in their blue jersies, and to their surprise the Mt. Logan players had no light colored shirts and were also dressed in blue.

It was decided to start the game, despite the teams being dressed alike, however, when the officials prepared the players for the opening tip, the teams were faced in the wrong direction. Ironically, Mt. Logan controlled the tip, dribbled down and scored. But in Washington C. H.'s bucket.

Hays immediately signalled for a time out and informed the officials of the goof. They agreed and awarded the visitors with two points.

This enraged Mt. Logan's Coach and sparked a 12-minute debate in which he said the game would not be started until the points were erased. Hays told his counterpart that if he felt that way, the Lions would take a 2-0 forfeit.

In the meantime, the Lions were taking a few practice shots. Hays then said the boys had come to play and not to be confronted with this type of situation.

So, despite all rules, the two points were erased from the scoreboard and the game was started over again. Hays, thinking more of his players and the sport than arguing about rules, agreed.

What if the Lions had lost by only two points?

New Holland grabs share of MT title

New Holland captured at least a share of the championship in the Miami Trace District junior high basketball league Thursday night witha 51-44 showdown win over Eber.

The win was New Holland's seventh in nine starts, while Eber now stands 6-3 with one game to play on the season schedule.

DAN GIFFORD hooped 31 points on the basis of 12 field goals and seven free throws in sparking New Holland to the win. Bill Hanners scored 21 points for Eber.

Neil Spears canned 34 points as Jeffersonville topped Madison Mills 66-61 in the highest scoring game of the season. Art Schlichter scored 48 of Madison Mills 61 points.

Dale Ambos quits Indian grid post

HILLSBORO — The resignation of Dale Ambos, head football coach at Hillsboro High School for the past four seasons, has been accepted by the Hillsboro Board of Education.

Ambos, 30, and a graduate of Capital University, coached Hillsboro to a lowly 14-55 all-games record during his tenure which started in 1969.

He becomes the third South Central Ohio League head football coach to resign following the 1972 season. Others were Fred Bernier, Miami Trace, and Jay Knierim, Greenfield.

Lions finish with 12-2 mark

WCH frosh pop Panthers

Washington C. H.'s freshman basketball climaxed a sparkling regular season by bopping intra-county rival Miami Trace 62-30 Thursday night at the Junior high gym.

Coach Don Gibbs' Lion frosh, employing an annoying full-court press, strolled to a commanding 31-6 halftime bulge and used a strong third quarter scoring performance in notching their 12th win in 14 starts.

The sticky Lion frosh defense held Miami Trace to a mere two field goals in the first half and handed Coach Terry Richard's Panthers their ninth setback of the season.

Chuck Byrd popped in 22 points and pivotman Doug Phillips contributed 21 to flame the Washington C. H. scoring punch. Terry Rodgers' 10-point performance was tops for Miami Trace.

The Lion eighth graders surged to a 24-16 halftime lead, but scored only 12 points in the next two frames and absorbed their ninth loss against three wins. Kenny Upthegrove and Jim Crabtree scored 11 and 10 points respectively for the Lions.

George Welsh new Navy football coach

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — "I've never been associated with a losing squad," George Welsh, Navy's new head football coach, said Thursday, "And I don't expect that string to be broken this fall."

Welsh, a one-time record-setting quarterback for the Middies and more recently an assistant coach at Penn State, was chosen to head a Naval Academy grid program that has produced a winning record only once in nine years.

Billy Williams signs

CHICAGO (AP) — Outfielder Billy Williams has signed his 1973 contract with the Chicago Cubs for an estimated $150,000. The figure would make him the highest-salaried player in Cub history.

Three junior high cage tourneys set Saturday

Two junior high basketball tournaments will open action Saturday afternoon while a third heads into its final rounds..

Miami Trace's South Central Ohio League freshman tournament and the Washington C. H. seventh grade tourney will be launched Saturday, while the consolation and championship rounds of the Sabina Invitational eighth grade tournament are being played.

Washington C. H.'s eighth grade team will meet Kings Mills at 1 p.m. Saturday in the consolation round of the Sabina tourney and Wilmington tangles with Sabina at 2 p.m. for the championship.

IN THE SCOL freshman tournament at Miami Trace, Hillsboro and Miami Trace will open the three-day event at 1 p.m. Saturday and Greenfield meets Wilmington at 2:30 p.m.

Coach Don Gibbs' Washington C. H. frosh (12-2) and Circleville were top seeded in the Miami Trace tournament. The Lion Frosh will play the Miami Trace - Hillsboro winner at 5:30 p.m. Thursday and Circleville meets the Greenfield - Wilmington survivor at 7 p.m. Thursday. The championship game will be staged Saturday, Feb. 24.

Hillsboro (4-7) and Greenfield (6-6) open the Washington C. H. seventh grade tournament at 3 p.m. Saturday. Coach Carl Anders' Washington C. H. team (7-3) will meet Sabina (9-4) at 4:30 p.m. Circleville and Wilmington drew byes and will clash with the winners of those two contests Tuesday. The finals are scheduled Saturday, Feb. 24 at 3 p.m.

Lewis Realty nudges foes in 2 overtimes

It took Bob Lewis Realty six quarters to nudge a winless, but determined Carter Feed and Grain team Thursday night, while Miami Trace Faculty had no trouble shattering the century mark in only four quarters.

Bill Kirkpatrick hooped 20 points to lead Lewis Realty to its fourth win in 10 games and Dan Montgomery scored 23 points for Carter Feed, which suffered its 11th straight loss.

Modell attacks ignoring of Groza

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns, has told the pro football Hall of Fame that he's astonished Lou "The Toe" Groza wasn't selected for the hall this year.

Groza's omission from the National Football League's hall this year "just does not make sense," Modell said in a letter to the hall's publicity director, Don Smith. This is the first year Groza has been eligible for enshrinement.

Smith, said "neither the management nor the board of directors" of the hall have anything to do with selections. He sent the letter to the 27 selectors whose votes determine who is enshrined in the hall. That was Modell's request, and Smith said Thursday the letter was sent "somewhat as a routine matter."

Computer pairs grid, baseball playoffs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The computer is back in business for a second straight year of selecting Ohio High School football playoff teams.

"With a few minor changes," Harold Meyer said, "We will go down the same road for football playoffs as last year."

Meyer serves as commissioner for the Ohio High School Athletic Association, whose board of control Thursday approved the computerized method of selecting state semifinalists again.

The governing body of Ohio schoolboy sports did make some changes in the system, however.

The OHSAA will announce the team point totals as well as regional standings each week in 1973. Last year the point totals were divulged only after the last games.

The board also will calculate the point totals to two decmial points next fall. The decimals were not used for the opening playoffs in 1972, won by Warren Western Reserve in Class AAA, Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary in Class AA and Marion Pleasant in Class A.

"This will affect only those teams that play less than a 10-game schedule. It will help to eliminate ties and will give a more exact total," said Hannibal River High School Principal Harry E. Mallett, sponsor of the decimal proposal.

Hannibal River was the team that was supposed to be Class AA Region 7 champion, a crown that originally went to Uniontown Lake. A mathematical error cost River a semifinals berth, but it was later declared the regional victor.

The OHSAA plans to publish the won-lost records of all teams weekly, if it creates no snafu for the Columbus firm that compiles the computer ratings.

Mallett also proposed that points be deducted from a team's total for each loss sustained by itself and those of its opponents. The OHSAA will conduct a one-year experiment on this suggestion.

"An undefeated team should have some reward for its efforts. Penalty points...will also discourage scheduling higher class opponents in hopes of earning points," Mallett wrote the OHSAA.

The OHSAA paired the teams for the 1973 football semifinals, but will select the sites for the games next month. The draw:

CLASS AAA — Region 3, Southeastern-Eastern, vs. Region 4, Southwestern; Region 2, Northwestern, vs. Region 1, Northeastern.

CLASS AA — Region 8, Southwestern, vs. Region 7, Southeastern; Region 5, Northeastern, vs. Region 6, Northwestern.

CLASS A — Region 11, Southeastern, vs. Region 10, Northwestern; Region 9, Northeastern, vs. Region 12, Southwestern.

The OHSAA also conducted the 1972 regional and state tournament baseball draw:

CLASS AAA

REGION 2, NORTH CANTON — Youngstown vs. North Canton, Barberton vs. Toledo.

REGION 4, CINCINNATI — Troy vs. Cincinnati, Oxford vs. Dayton.

All regionals are May 25-26 and the state tournament at Ohio State June 1-2. In the state semifinals, it will be Region 2 vs. Region 4 and Region 3 vs. Region 1.

CLASS AA

REGION 6, LIMA — Bucyrus Wynford vs. Hamler Patrick Henry, Urbana vs. Bowling Green.

REGION 8, SPRINGFIELD — Dayton vs. Newark lower, Newark upper vs. Cincinnati.

In the state semifinals, it will be Region 8 vs. Region 6 and Region 5 vs. Region 7.

CLASS A

REGION 12, URBANA — Coldwater vs. Urbana, Cincinnati vs. Dayton.

In the state semifinals, it will be Region 9 vs. Region 12 and Region 10 vs. Region 11.

JUST FOR FUN

BY: ROD RICH

The automobile which captured the hearts of the woman in 1914, was the Ford Coupelet, a two-passenger model which could be driven year round, in any kind of weather. With the top up, it was a snug little car, clean and convenient and when the top was folded down, it became a smart little open-air run-about.

Women motorist today still like convenience and style in an automobile, and they are so much more fortunate, for they have a much wider range of makes and styles from which to choose.

Women today have also taken to the open road on the famous Honda motorbike and here too, they find a wide range of models and styles to choose from. The handy Honda is easy on the road, easy to park, easy on handling and control, and easy on the pocketbook.

Arrest ends man's flight in impounded auto

Police said Michael C. Geagan had taken the car from Bell's Shell station after he had appeared in Municipal Court Thursday afternoon on a charge of driving an unsafe vehicle. The car had been towed and impounded on the service station lot early Thursday pending repairs police said.

Station employes said Geagan walked onto the station lot and drove away in his foreign model sports car before they could stop him. He sped down Delaware Street and then turned onto Lewis Street, headed for Bloomingburg.

In the meantime police and sheriff's departments were notified and began to look for the car. A service station operator in Bloomingburg spotted the car as it headed for I-71 and notified sheriff's deputies. Employes at a service station at Ohio 38 and I-71, alerted by sheriff's deputies, reported the car turning northbound on the freeway toward Columbus.

Surrounding counties and Highway Patrol posts had been notified to stop the car and it was finally halted by Pickaway County sheriff's deputies on I-71 north of the CCC Highway, about 15 minutes later.

GEAGAN was returned to Washington C.H. police headquarters where he was again charged with driving an unsafe vehicle. He was freed after posting $100 bond. His car was impounded again — at a Mount Sterling service station.

Geagan had appeared in Municipal Court just before the episode and was fined $25 and costs for driving the unsafe vehicle. Police said the left front fender of the car was damaged and it had no headlights.

He was arrested on the charge at 2:05 a.m. Thursday.

Other cases heard by Municipal Court Judge Reed Winegardner Thursday afternoon were:

POLICE

Fined:

SHERIFF

Fined:

Andrew F. Robertson, 56, Rt. 2, $50 and costs, and a 60-day license suspension for reckless operation; a charge of leaving the scene of an accident was withdrawn.

Bond Forfeiture:

Rural rhythm feature of Lions meet

GOOD HOPE — Blue Grass and country music kept Good Hope Lions Club toes tapping Thursday evening at Wayne Hall as "Dave Huffman and the Blue Grass Ramblers" entertained, following a dinner prepared and served by the United Methodist Church women.

Lion President R.B. (Bud) McCoy conducted the business session, during which Roger McCoy and Eddie Rae were installed as new members, with Roger Godsey in charge of the service. Dean Yahn reported approximately $800 profit from the Lion fruit cake sale, the proceeds going into the Lions Sight Saving Fund.

The Zone chairman, Robert Bishop, reminded the group that the next Zone meeting will be March 8 in the Elks Home at Wilmington, and Jim Hughes said that the annual Ladies Night will be held March 15 at the American Legion Home, with festivities beginning at 6:30 p.m. The Lions District convention will be March 24-25 in Fairborn, and the next regular board meeting will be Monday at 8 p.m. in Wayne Hall.

New Holland PTO program Tuesday night

NEW HOLLAND — A special program will be presented by the Camp Fire Girls, Cub Scout Pack 157 and Boy Scout Troop 157 at a PTO meeting in the New Holland school gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Members of the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Satchell, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Funk, Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jacobs Jr. and Mrs. Helen Root.

Another feature of the program will be the awarding of prizes for the school project -- the candy sale.

Serving on the refreshment committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cherry, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Slager, Mrs. Rosemary, See, Mrs. Carolyn Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Doyle.

students while Bill was teaching. I'm beginning to think this keeping records for both places is a never ending job.

Saturday morning, when we came to work, it was only seven degrees above zero. The engines turned over very sluggishly, and there was quite a bit of frost on the wings. However, we got busy thawing them out, and were ready to fly in about an hour. Howard Wright helped defrost the planes, and then took his little son, Johnny, for a flight. Jim Vess, Ed Pendergraft, Keith Houghton and Tom Preston flew to Cambridge where Jim remained for a ball game. Tim Vehnekamp flew solo, practicing commerical maneuvers, and Mr. and Mrs. Kinley rented one of our trainers for a little pleasure flight.

Our work days are becoming longer, as we now have more daylight hours, and in another six weeks, we should be swinging into our busy season. The Ag planes will be flying in to sow grass seed, etc., and our students will be doing more flying as the weather improves. As always, we will be glad to see the long winter months end, and spring arrive.

On this optimistic note, I'll wind things up for now. You-all come see us!

Travelog, reports feature program at Eastside PTO

Eastside's Parent-Teacher Organization, meeting at the school, enjoyed a film and narration on Thailand as foreign exchange student Bundit Kanyavongha gave the members a quick trip through his homeland. Mrs. Evelyn Petry, school psychologist, talked about her work with students.

PTO members decided on an extensive list of projects they plan, to spend part of the money made at the fall carnival and supper. They plan to take the Safety Patrol boys and girls on a trip to King's Island; to provide money for Eastside Cub Scout Pack 20; to sponsor a ping pong tournament; to buy math labs, an office copier, a paper cart to transport material to the various classes, playground equipment and paint to refinish some of the old equipment.

They hope, also, to buy a portable basketball goal, which can be lowered for use by the smaller boys and can be removed for storage; a filing cabinet for the fifth class room, a projection screen, a film strip projector and a projection cart, some dinosaur posters for the walls, a listening center with eight listening posts, kitchen equipment, kindergarten material, a new Santa Claus suit and lumber for shelves and bookcases, or educational TV equipment, depending on the availability of manpower to build the shelves.

The next meeting, in April, will be the Spring Party.

Staunton-Olive PTO appoints election panel

STAUNTON — The Staunton-Olive Parent-Teacher Organization, meeting Thursday evening in Staunton School, participated in a short business session, conducted by Mrs. Robert Smith, vice president. A $436.99 balance was reported in the treasury.

A nominating committee for new officers was named, including Mrs. Eddie Gault, chairman, Mrs. Donald Wolfe, Mrs. John Peterson, Mrs. Donald Bailey and Mrs. Martin Smith.

The PTO agreed to give $50 toward the purchase of new carpeting for the kindergarten room at Staunton. Mrs. Wolfe, ways and means chairman, said the sale of boxed candy will begin Monday, and a skating party is planned for March 14, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., at Roller Haven.

The evening's program presented the kindergarten classes in musical selection, under the direction of Mrs. John P. Case, and plays, which were coached by Mrs. Glenn Hutchinson, teacher, and her aide, Mrs. Roseann Newbrey.

Mrs. Harold Anderson, 4-H assistant for organization, and Mrs. Virgil Hardman, 4-H key leader, for Concord, Green and Perry townships, discussed the 4-H program.

Mrs. Hutchinson's class was named the one with most parents attending Refreshments were served, with Mrs. Daryl Bailey as chairman.

RECORD HERALD

Vol. 115 — No. 56 | 16 Pages | Washington Court House, Ohio | 15 Cents | Friday, Feb. 16, 1973

20-year sentence approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Court of Military Review today upheld the murder conviction of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. in the My Lai massacre and approved the sentence of 20 years at hard labor.

The Army announced that the review court found that Calley "personally participated in, and ordered subordinates to participate in, the mass summary execution of unarmed, unresisting men, women and children in the hamlet of My Lai, Republic of Vietnam, on March 16, 1968."

Calley originally was sentenced to prison for life after conviction by a court-martial at Ft. Benning, Ga., on charges of premeditated murder of "not less than 22 Vietnamese" and of assault with intent to murder a Vietnamese child.

On Aug. 20, 1971, the commander of the 3d Army reduced the sentence to 20 years.

The Army said he may now ask the U.S. Court of Military Appeals for a further review of his case.

President Nixon has said that he ultimately will review the Calley case in his role as commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

The three-judge Court of Military Review listened to arguments by Calley's lawyers last December as the lawyers sought to reverse his conviction or reduce the sentence further.

In its announcement, the Army said the Court of Military Review rejected Calley's defenses "that he did not intend to commit murder and that he was only obeying orders."

The court also turned down a number of other technical claims, including one that he was not subject to military jurisdiction, and that the court-martial which tried him was improperly constituted, unlawfully controlled by military superiors, and was influenced by pre-trial publicity.

Spectacular freeway crash injures 2, ties up traffic

A spectacular collision on Interstate 71 early Friday, involving a loaded tractor-trailer rig and a converted camper bus towing a trailer, sent both drivers to Memorial Hospital with severe injuries caused and a massive traffic jam along with damage estimated at several thousand dollars.

Admitted to the hospital were Donald L. Connelly, 32, Logansport, Ind., the trick driver, and John A. Hanby, 54, Jax, Fla., driver of the camper outfit. Both were reported in satisfactory condition Friday morning; Connelly suffering from a skull fracture and facial abrasions, and Hanby with multiple lacerations, knee and hand injuries.

The accident, occuring at 1:35 a.m., scattered debris and wreckage over a 500-foot stretch of the southbound lane, about a half mile north of U. S. 35.

Traffic was blocked for over an hour as Highway Patrol officers, Jeffersonville firemen, and a Highway Department crew tried to clear the wreckage from the roadway.

Fayette County Sheriff's deputies, also on the scene, said traffic, mostly semi-rigs, was backed up to the Ohio 41 interchange, two miles from the crash.

PATROLMAN Ray Combs said the Hanby camper-trailer was attempting to pull from the passing lane back into the driving when Connelly's semi-rig slammed into the rear of the trailer. Hanby told officers he had slowed down to pull into the driving lane after he saw tailights ahead in the passing lane.

The crash ripped the trailer from the rear of the bus and knocked it off the left side of the pavement. Both the bus and semi rig were overturned by the collision and skidded on their sides for several hundred feet spewing drillbits and wreckage along the way.

The Jeffersonville Fire Department was called to the scene to wash away the large amount of fuel spilled on the pavement. A State Highway Department crew was also on the scene assisting in clearing the debris.

One lane traffic was maintained through the crash scene for several hours until the wreckage was completely cleared.

Connelly's semi rig and Hanby's camper and trailer were all demolished. Connelly was cited for failure to maintain an assured clear distance.

ONE PERSON was slightly injured and two drivers were cited in eight other traffic accidents investigated by city police and sheriff's departments overnight. Most of them occurred Thursday afternoon as freezing snow

Gilligan sees 'local level' foot-dragging

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan accuses entrenched local officials and citizens of being the biggest roadblocks to better public services in Ohio.

His attack on local establishments came in the February issue of the magazine "Nation's Cities" in an article he authored called "Ohio Tackles Its Governmental Tangle."

"Aside from party differences," wrote Gilligan, "the vested interests of local officials and citizens who are accustomed to existing patterns seem to comprise the most difficult barrier to the adoption of new solutions to growing public service problems.

"In short, those whose political and personal relationships help them cut through bureaucratic puzzles don't want changes.

The magazine article reviews the work of the Ohio Commission on Local Government Services, which meets today in Columbus to hear the results of a state-wide survey of attitudes and perceptions toward all levels of government by Ohioans.

Dr. Philip Burgess, director of the Behavioral Sciences Laboratory of Ohio State University, conducted a 1,500 sample survey last October and November. He completed computer runs and analysis of results earlier this week.

Gilligan's article gave some insight into the problems encountered by the commission in the 10 months it has operated.

Last April, Gilligan appointed 48 mayors, legislators, county commissioners, township trustees and private citizens "to find out what's wrong with local services and the systems that deliver them. Then invent solutions to the problems."

Since then, the governor says, "They broke into four committees and began to dig." He added they have learned "that modernizing the structures that finance and deliver citizen services through regions, counties, cities and townships would not be easy."

Gilligan said, "The processes required to change legal, fiscal, or administrative arrangements to improve local government service delivery are complex and extremely difficult."

He said there are more than 3,200 local units, consisting of townships, municipalities, villages, townships and school districts.

Before creating the commission, the governor said a preliminary analysis pointed up "several likely, underlying causes for inadequate public services."

He listed the causes as overlap in authority, "the longstanding chaotic pattern of state administrative service areas," varying population sizes served by similar functions and widespread fiscal disparities among local government units.

U.S. copter shot down

SAIGON (AP) — A big U.S. helicopter on a peacekeeping mission was shot down today north of Saigon, and five Americans were injured. Meanwhile, a North Vietnamese spokesman reported that the next 20 American prisoners of war being released by Hanoi would be freed Saturday or Sunday.

The CH47 Chinook helicopter was the first American aircraft downed in Vietnam since the cease-fire began Jan. 28. However, three helicopters were hit during the first three days of the truce, with one American killed and four wounded.

Driver-trainer Richard Buxton, who operates the stables, said he and several volunteers were able to save 21 horses.

Bare Nixon strategy to kill OEO

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has devised a detailed plan that calls for dismantling the Office of Economic Opportunity before Congress can come to its rescue.

The elaborate strategy, listing arguments the administration should use to support its case, the people in Congress it should work with and the obstacles it can expect to face, urges "completing the disagreeable business as soon as possible."

"The more delay, the more opportunity for congressional opposition to gather and develop a legislative counter-strategy," says the paper, which was prepared by the OEO's technical staff. A copy has been made available to The Associated Press.

Entitled "Congressional Strategy on OEO," the paper advises against a clash over constitutional powers with Congress, which last year extended the OEO and its many programs through fiscal 1974.

President Nixon's budget for fiscal 1974 calls for ending federal support for Community Action—the main OEO-sponsored antipoverty program—and scattering its remaining programs among other agencies.

"A constitutional confrontation may be where the administration is most vulnerable ...," the staff paper says. "The opposition can claim that there is

Ohio House eyes tax error, OKs capital improvements

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House will vote Tuesday on a measure which, if finally approved, would cost the majority of Ohio's income taxpayers a $5 bill.

It's not a new tax, but a bill correcting a "clerical error" in the income tax law which went into effect 13½ months ago.

As a result of the error in tax tables, a majority of the taxpayers—who fall into the $10,000-$15,000 annual income category—paid or wound up owing $5 less tax in 1972 than they should have.

The Department of Taxation estimates the bungle cost the state about $4 million in the first year of the income levy's existence. Drafters of the pending bill traced the mistake back to the fourth conference committee which wrote the final income tax bill in December, 1971.

State lawmakers headed home for the weekend in snowy weather Thursday after a partisan House fight rang with "pork barrel" charges on Gov. John Gilligan's $92.2 million federal revenue sharing bill.

The bill finally passed 53-34 on a party line vote with a few exceptions. Rep. Robert E. Netzley, R-81 Laura, joined prevailing Democrats after being assured the bill contains funds for a vocational educational school in his district.

Four Democrats left their ranks to vote "no," all Daytonians protesting the refusal of the administration and House leadership to include money for a medical school at Wright State University.

The bill appropriates the first allocation of federal revenue sharing funds covering the period from Jan. 1, 1972 to July 1, 1973. The biggest chunk—$35.5 million—goes for construction of vocational education schools and equipment.

Most of the remainder, if the Senate approves, would pay for a wide range of capital improvements ranging from museums and crime laboratories to state parks and mental health facilities.

Republicans who sought to rearrange the spending priorities labelled the bill a Democratic "pork barrel", designed to entrench that party's incumbents by pouring bricks and mortar into their home districts.

Ohio abortions difficult despite court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal court ruling Wednesday left Ohio without laws prohibiting abortions, but women still may have difficulty getting one.

Opponents of abortion plan a series of suits blocking them. And they are working for legislation to limit the number as much as possible.

Many hospitals are refusing to permit abortions, even if they are legal.

U.S. District Judge Joseph Kinneary struck down Ohio's abortion law as unconstitutional, following the lines laid down by the U.S. Supreme Court a month ago.

No appeal is expected on Kinneary's decision. David Young, a Columbus attorney who represents anti-abortion interests, said, "Rather. . .we will work with separate lawsuits and legislative reform."

Lawsuits to prevent abortions will be based on grounds of property and inheritance rights of the unborn child and the right of the father to consent to the abortion, Young said.

A temporary injunction was granted in a Franklin County Common Pleas Court case involving the property rights of an eight-week-old fetus. Judge George B. Marshall dissolved the injunction and dismissed the case after the federal court decision Wednesday.

Marshall said property rights were not relevant in the case. But later, he allowed that it may be a valid argument in preventing the abortion of a fetus whose heartbeat could be detected.

On Thursday the 23-year-old plaintiff in the case, identified only as "Mary Doe," obtained her abortion, according to the American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio, which handled the case.

Anti-abortionists are also beginning an active lobby effort to limit abortions within the ruling of the Supreme Court, Young said.

The Supreme Court left the abortion decision during the first three months of pregnancy up to the woman and her physician. In the second three months, the court said the state could only regulate health standards.

And the state could regulate and prohibit abortions in the final three months except if the woman's life were endangered by the pregnancy.

Young said he is sure an abortion bill will be presented to the legislature next week. He could not identify the author of the measure.

The Catholic church, historically opposed to abortions, will conduct an education program to inform women of the alternatives to abortions, Young said.

Several hospital spokesmen in the Columbus area have already indicated they will not allow abortions in their facilities. Sister Laurencita, administrator at Mt. Carmel Hospital said, "We support the right to life."

Spokesmen for Grant and Ohio State University Hospitals said they will continue operating under the now-invalid Ohio abortion law which allows abortion only if the "mother's life is endangered." They will wait until the Ohio law is rewritten.

Young said he also suspected many doctors might avoid performing abortions because of pressures or until the Ohio limits are made known.

Mary Ann Hanson, chairwoman of the Ohio Abortion Alliance, said she hopes two will be established within a month. She declined to say how they will be funded or staffed. But she suggested Planned Parenthood might create them.

Planned Parenthood Director Mary Harris said a board meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday to determine if the group will continue only its counseling function or expand and establish abortion clinics.

A time for remembering

Since 1971 the third Monday in February has been observed as the First President's birthdate which for over 170 years had been observed on Feb. 22, the actual date of Washington's birth in 1732.

The third Monday in February is one of four Monday holidays established by Congress effective in 1971. In Ohio, the day is officially known as Washington-Lincoln Day.

All city, county, state and federal offices will be closed Monday as will the city and county schools. There will be no city or rural mail delivery and the windows at the Post Office will be closed. The Post Office will be open for postal box patrons and drop box pickup and dispatches will remain on schedule, postal officials said.

Banks, the State Liquor Store and the Carnegie Public Library will close for the day.

Retail stores will remain open on Monday, and many have added extra hours today and Saturday for the holiday sales.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Alverda Bolton

Services for Mrs. Alverda Mae Bolton, 83, a former resident, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Robert Mayhew Funeral Home, Oak Hill, with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery. Mrs. Bolton died Wednesday in Peoria, Ill.

MISS CLYTA SELF — Services were held at 10:30 a.m. Thursday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home for Miss Clyta Self, 86, of 411 Temple St., who died Tuesday. The Rev. Don Baker, pastor of First Christian Church, officiated at the services.

Pallbearers for the burial in New Holland Cemetery were Carl Self, Frank Self, Robert Self, Marvin L. Arnold, Danny McDaniel and Richard Kirkpatrick.

MRS. EMMA BEATHARDS — Services for Mrs. Emma Jane Beathards, 98, of 3681 Leesburg Ave., were held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home with the Rev. Don Baker, of First Christian Church, officiating. Mrs. Beathards, the widow of Seaton J. Beathards, died Monday.

Wally Cox death ruled heart attack

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Wally Cox, who caught the public fancy in the earliest era of American television as the mild, bespectacled teacher "Mr. Peepers," once said his role has been lost to history.

Cox, who died of a heart attack in his home Thursday, referred to the prevideotape age when no recordings were made of the 110 episodes of the series that began in 1952 and has been off the screen since 1955.

Cox later starred in another television series, "Hiram Holliday," and appeared in Las Vegas night clubs. Recently, he served as a panelist on the quiz show "Hollywood Squares" and was the voice of "Underdog," a Saturday morning cartoon hero.

Cox — who read, took long walks and collected insects — said he never really enjoyed the role of Mr. Peepers, the intensely shy science teacher. "It was just too rigid and tense," he said.

Another member of the Peepers cast, Tony Randall, said of Cox: "He was not quite the helpless little fellow he seemed to be. He was a strong fellow; but, simply because he did not compete, he was no threat to anyone. Everyone loved him."

As Cox specified before his death, there will be no funeral. His body will be cremated and the ashes scattered at sea.

OEO strategy

clear law and intent that there be an OEO and a Community Action Program."

Instead, the paper advises, the administration should try to get support for cutting off OEO funds in the House and Senate Appropriations committees, "whose interests most closely align with the President's, and, which ... have few members with strong feelings for OEO."

At the same time, the paper says, the administration should try to delay congressional action on the over-all budget for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare, forcing them to be financed by special resolutions in which OEO could be isolated.

The paper lists the senators and representatives who can be considered friendly to the administration plan and suggests that Sens. Bill Brock, R-Tenn., or Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., lead the effort in the Senate.

The paper warns that opposition—"highly vocal, threatening and derogatory"—can be expected from Sens. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., Gaylord Nelson, DWis., Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., and Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio.

Foes blast environment, farm plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's plea to Congress to act promptly on administration environmental and farm legislation has elicited critical responses from three influential Democratic senators.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, urged everyone to ignore the President's environmental message while Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, suggested Nixon's farm proposals be put out to pasture.

"Since the President and his Cabinet have always asked that they be judged on the basis of what they do, and not on the basis of what they say," said Muskie, author of much of the nation's recent environmental legislation, "I think our most appropriate response to this message is to pretend we never heard it."

And Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said Nixon's call for ending farm subsidies "is the final blow in a series of recent decisions by the administration which could destroy our nation's family-farm system."

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. experts are puzzling over an extraordinary series of eight Russian test-firings of intercontinental-range missiles from the same launch base within about two weeks.

Intelligence sources said the eight ICBMs were fired about 1,200 miles from a complex at Svobodnyy to the Kamchiatka Peninsula. The firings began in late January and ended last weekend.

Woman succumbs after 22 years in deep coma

PIOK, Pa. (AP) — Janet Shouse is dead at the age of 28 after spending nearly three-quarters of her life in a world without awareness.

Twenty-two years ago Janet was a normal child of 6 and on the verge of starting first grade.

Then, on April 23, 1951, she fell from a moving car near the western Pennsylvania town of Butler. Comatose and suffering from a fracture skull, massive brain damage and shattered legs, she was a patient at Butler Hospital for six months following the accident.

Janet died Thursday at Polk State Hospital of pneumonia, an apparent complication of the London flu. She weighed just 85 pounds and was but 4 feet tall when death overtook her.

Helen M. Piper, 53, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville, suffered minor bumps and bruises when she was thrown from her car in a crash on Moon-Evans Road, just off Ohio 41 Thursday afternoon.

Sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Piper was pinned under her auto for a short time but wss pulled free by a passing driver. She was taken to a private physician for treatment.

Her car was eastbound when the right rear wheel dropped off onto a soft berm causing her to lose control. The car spun around, throwing Mrs. Piper out, and came to rest against a fence, officers reported.

She was not cited.

OTHER MISHAPS were:

POLICE

THURSDAY, 3:25 p.m. — Sue E. Honsberger, 20, Circleville was cited for a traffic light violation after her car collided with a car driven by Gerald W. Wright, 30, of 537 French Ct., at the Court-Fayette Street intersection; damage moderate.

THURSDAY, 4:30 p.m. — William D. Burr, 18, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville, was cited for improper backing after he backed from a parking space on Market Street and collided with a westbound car driven by John T. McMurray, 48, Rt. 1, Greenfield; damage minor.

THURSDAY 7 p.m. — A car driven by Fanny M. Hooks, 62, of 929 Lakeview Ave., slid on icy Main Street and hit a parked pickup truck owned by the Sabina Farmer's Exchange; damage minor.

SHERIFF

THURSDAY, 8:04 a.m. — A car driven by Donald E. Palmer, 23, of 930 E. Market St., skidded as he attempted to slow down on U.S. 35 at Hutchinson-Yeoman Road and hit a car owned by Rita C. Waln, of 236 Henkle St., parked in the M & M Restaurant lot; damage moderate.

THURSDAY, 5:35 p.m. — A car driven by William W. Davis, 34, Circleville, went out of control on icy U.S. 22, about three miles east of Washington C.H., and hit a utility pole; damage moderate.

FRIDAY, 12:50 a.m. — Carol L. Jenkins, 19, of Greenfield, lost control of her car on snow covered Staunton-Sugar Grove Road, just west of Ohio 41, and slid broadside 240 feet, slamming into utility pole. Damage to her 1968 model car was heavy.

FRIDAY, 8:10 a.m. — A car driven by Robert Crabtree, 18, Rt. 4, collided with a parked car owned by Ruth Eltzroth, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville, on the Miami Trace parking lot; damage minor.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Snow flurries and chilling temperatures continued over the state through Thursday night, with most of the heavy snow accumulations in the northern section of the state.

Cleveland and the Akron-Canton areas had snowfalls measuring four inches during the night. Only a few snow flurries were reported at Toledo but the National Weather Service said the snow continued unabated in Cleveland during the early morning.

At 6 a.m. the snow measured six inches at Cleveland Hopkins Airport but with reports of from 8 to 9 inches in some of the suburbs.

The snow was reported drifting badly in many areas as strong northerly winds off Lake Erie continue. Winds along the lake shore have reached 25 to 35 miles per hour during much of the night.

Elsewhere in the state snow accumulations were light.

Temperatures continued the drop that began early Thursday. Most temperatures fell between 10 and 20 degrees. However, skies cleared for a time in the northwest, and the mercury fell to near zero.

Little warming can be expected Friday, the weather service said. The combination of a storm off New England and a massive high pressure center in the Upper Great Lakes will force arctic air over the state through the day.

The air flow is expected to ease off Friday night. But the clearing skies will allow temperatures to fall to near zero in almost all parts of the state.

The cold air will remain through Saturday. Sunday is expected to mark the beginning of a period of moderating temperatures.

A warming trend Sunday through Tuesday with a chance of showers about Tuesday. Highs 25 to 35 Sunday, warming to the 40s Tuesday. Lows 5 to 15 early Sunday, warming into the mid and upper 20s early Tuesday.

Deep freeze chills East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arctic cold swept across the Great Lakes today as parts of the East fell into a winter deep freeze while the West enjoyed generally moderate conditions.

The cold streaming over the lakes set off snow squalls that dumped heavy snow into northern Ohio and parts of upstate New York.

Heavy-snow warnings were posted for Indiana, northern Ohio and northern Maine and gale warnings flew on all the Great Lakes and along the Atlantic Coast from Rhode Island to Maine.

High water levels and the strong northerly wind posed a flooding threat to the southern shores of lakes Erie and Ontario.

Travelers were warned that conditions in the central and northern mountains of Arizona were hazardous. Four inches of new snow was expected. Heavy-snow warnings were issued for the mountains of New Mexico and a winter storm watch was out for southeastern Arizona.

Stock prices move upward

Analysts said investors were playing a fence-sitting game, keeping mostly to the sidelines while waiting for firm evidence of a solution to the problems of the dollar and inflation. A positive factor was the apparent stabilization of the dollar in foreign exchange dealings Thursday, brokers said.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up fractionally and gainers held a narrow edge over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Prices on the Big Board included Federal National Mortgage Association, unchanged at 16½, Diversified Mortgage, up ⅜ to 27, Donnelley & Sons, down ⅛ to 23¾, Occidental Petroleum, unchanged at 11⅛, and Texaco, unchanged at 37⅝.

On Thursday selling pressure let up after a steep slide in the previous session, but prices continued to decline. Analysts said signs that the dollar was gaining strength in foreign exchange markets siphoned off some downward pressure on stock prices, but too many uncertainties—both international and domestic—remained to permit an upturn in the market.

The Dow Jones industrial average slipped 6.78 points to 973.13 after a 16.85 decline Wednesday, with volume at a relatively light 13.94 million shares, compared to Wednesday's 16.52 million. Big Board losers outnumbered gainers 937 to 475.

Solons seeking spending curb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is trying again this year to set up effective machinery to control the budget, but past efforts show it to be a thankless task with little chance of success.

But some veteran members are saying things are different this time.

They point to substantial deficit spending the last three years, the weakening of the dollar abroad, the $6-billion balance-of-payments deficit last year and the steady march of inflation through recession and boom periods.

All these, some say, may have convinced a majority that they no longer can deal with the budget on a business-as-usual basis. That basis often has resulted in a spending increase even though the legislators pretended otherwise.

In 1972, for example, Congress cut President Nixon's appropriations requests by $5 billion. But it took other actions that actually would have boosted spending by more than $9 billion if the President had not refused to spend all the money voted.

Congress has made three other major attempts since World War II to set effective controls on spending, and all have failed.

The new effort is being directed by a 26-member Joint Study Committee on Budget Control set up last October when Congress refused to grant Nixon a $250-billion spending ceiling for fiscal 1973. The panel has agreed unanimously on 11 principles which it asserts can bring the budget under control.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., a co-chairman, hailed this as a giant first step and said he is confident the group will be successful in working out details in the next two months.

Under the principles, Congress would fix a spending ceiling each year early in the session and would establish procedures to guarantee the ceiling is kept.

They say problems will come in trying to fill in the details of how the general principles will be carried out.

The key problem, they emphasize, is that there are two budgets and it is almost impossible to get them to mesh.

Each January, the president submits a spending budget for the year starting the next July 1. But Congress holds hearings on the second budget, which sets out how the president wants the money spent.

Much of the spending in any year is from appropriations made by past Congresses. Conversely, much of what Congress approves in a particular year will not be spent until later years.

JEFFERSONVILLE — The Jeffersonville Village Council Thursday night approved an ordinance which establishes rules and regulations for the installation of sewer line laterals.

Mayor Donald Morrow said village home owners will receive copies of the rules and regulations within the next two weeks. The rules will serve as a guideline for the manner in which the home owners will be able to connect into the village sewer system.

Morrow pointed out the regulations include a penalty for failure to comply.

Council received report from M.M. Schirtzinger and Associates, Chillicothe, the village is consulting engineers, on the progress of the sewer system construction.

It was reported that work is progressing satisfactorily and that any complaints by property owners should be directed to Lindy Sharrett, village service director, who will work with the individual contractors to take care of the troubles.

Councilmen opened bids for the purchase of a new truck and used backhoe. Morrow said that since a number of bids were submitted for the equipment, a committee of Nelson Baker, Larry Cook and Sharrett was appointed to make a summary of bids and present their recommendation to Council.

A special meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Monday to review the bids on the equipment, Morrow said.

Woman facing murder charges suicide in cell

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 24-year-old woman charged with first-degree murder in the strangulation deaths of her two small children was found hanged to death in her Cuyahoga County jail cell Thursday.

Sheriff's deputies said Nan Mullan hung herself with a bedsheet from an overhead pipe. They said her body was discovered about an hour after she passed a bed check.

She had been charged in the deaths of her daughters, Holly, 2, and 4-month-old Betty Christmas Eve. Police said that Mrs. Mullan phoned police and reported the deaths, telling officers that she killed the children after helping them open their Christmas presents.

Jailers said that she had been despondent and talked constantly of committing suicide.

Devaluation may both hurt, help Americans

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While chances are great that you will barely notice any immediate, perceptible change in your life because of the 10 per cent devaluation of the dollar, there are exceptions.

You may be hurt if:

—You are dependent upon imported products or parts. If you own a German or Japanese automobile that needs repairs your bill might be higher after the dealer's present parts supply runs out and he needs to import more.

—You travel extensively in nations whose currency is now worth more in relation to the dollar. If you are on an unlimited expense account you may not be concerned. But you should be if your account is limited to a daily or total figure.

—You send money back to relatives in "the old country." Or you are an American living abroad, perhaps a retiree who receives a Social Security check from home each month.

—You work for a company that distributes imported products or which manufactures a product containing imported ingredients. Such a company could suffer a competitive disadvantage, mainly because of higher costs.

You could be helped if:

—You work for a company that has been hurt by foreign competition. In theory, at least, your company should now feel a change in competition both at home and abroad.

—You are an employe of a recreation or entertainment company, or any other business that could prosper from an increase in foreign travelers whose money is now worth more than before.

—You hold stock in a corporation which looks attractive to foreign investors more willing now to invest in the United States, mainly because stock prices have been discounted 10 per cent, but also because some companies might become more competitive.

—You hold business or property for sale — anything from a tiny work of art to a manufacturing plant — that now could become more attractive to foreigners with capital seeking to make direct investments in the United States.

—You are an investor in a U.S. company whose borrowing costs might be reduced because of a return flow of dollars.

Among the signs of a new economic world that called for new currency alignments:

—For half a century the United States was known as THE producer of automobiles. No other nation or group of them was close. If anything represented American industrial dominance it was the car.

Now there exists an economic entity known as the Common Market, made up of Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Britain, Ireland and Denmark. Twenty years ago their combined auto output was less than a million.

In contrast, these same nations produced more than 10 million units in 1970. Because Britain and Ireland were not members then you may subtract 1.5 million units and still exceed the U.S. total of 6.5 million for that year.

—In the immediate post World War II years it was often said the most needed exportable of the United States, other than its money, was management knowhow.

Senate probe set in motion

The Senate, like the general public, has shown that it badly wishes to know more about the Watergate episode. People want to get to the bottom of this case of political espionage, and are convinced that there is much more to it than has yet been revealed.

Perhaps it would be naive to suggest that the 70 to 0 vote to undertake an investigation indicates a universal desire among senators for full disclosure of who did what (and who ordered it done, and who was aware of it). A few random Republicans may privately entertain a yen to spare their party this embarrassment. On reflection, however, the first paragraph above strikes us as a fair statement of the nation's mood.

There ought to be widespread gratification, therefore, at the Senate's move to tackle the matter on its own now that the criminal trial is over. Though we share this feeling, we do regret that the inquiry will not go somewhat more broadly into the question of political espionage.

Some arguments can be made for the wisdom of keeping the focus narrow; that is, attempting to deal only with Watergate and its immediate ramifications. Apparently these arguments helped to sway the Senate. We concur in this to some extent. To include a probe of alleged Democratic wiretapping at the 1964 and 1968 GOP conventions, as was proposed, would be wandering rather far afield. The issue concerns evident high-level administration involvement in such shenanigans during the 1972 campaign, an issue which should be kept as clearcut as possible.

It is a disappointment, though, that the Senate apparently will not seize the chance to probe not only Watergate but whatever other instances of political espionage last year can be brought to light. Both parties have a stake, aside from their immediate preoccupations, in exposing and then blowing the whistle on such activities.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . by Marquis Childs

Contenders for New York's No. 1 job

NEW YORK — Why anyone would want to take on the horrendous job of Mayor of New York is an unfathomable political mystery. Yet as the present mayor, John V. Lindsay, said the other day, if you want to know who is running just go through the Manhattan telephone directory.

At least a dozen potential candidates, most of them Democrats, have sent up trial balloons. The job pays $50,000 a year with some perquisites, such as Gracie Mansion, a handsome residence, a chauffeur - driven limousine and bodyguards and others paid to stand and wait.

But the mayor is constantly beset by the threat of breakdown, the explosion of graft and corruption and innumerable other ills.

THE EXPECTATION is that Lindsay will run for a third term this fall. He may opt out of the Democratic primary and run on the Liberal party line, thereby circumventing a bruising primary fight. That is how Lindsay won a second term four years ago.

Having turned Democrat this time, Lindsay will face the implacable opposition of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Rockefeller will swing his backing and his wealth to the Republican nominee.

The conviction here is that Rockefeller will run for a fourth term for governor in 1974 when he will be 66 years old. Then two years later he will once again make a try for the presidency, or such is the belief of those who consider the virus of ambition for the highest office in the land incurable once it has entered the bloodstream.

Since 1960 Rockefeller has been jousting unsuccessfully with Richard Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination.

FROM the Lindsay camp a trial balloon went up recently, intimating that the mayor might oppose Rockefeller for governor in '74. But Lindsay is a realist. He believes the governor is capable of spending $15 million out of his own wealth to get reelected. To match that kind of money is all but impossible. That shame of big political spending shows up in the city where a minimal budget for the mayoralty race is $3 million.

Lindsay can show that he has made some progress in cleaning up the city. An able young lieutenant, William Bardel, is director of the Office of Midtown Development. One objective is to shut down the massage parlors which are really houses of prostitution and the porno industry that afflicts the whole Times Square area.

Bardel says he has closed down perhaps a third of the massage operators and a number of the peep shows. At times it is like unraveling a detective mystery. On property owned by Rockefeller interests and Time magazine several massage parlors were operating.

Property managers informed of this were dismayed, since with release several layers down they had been unaware of the nature of the tenants.

A NEW 2,000-room hotel will shortly be announced for midtown, according to Bardel. It will be distinguished in design, with every facility under one roof. And a $150 million convention-exhibition center in what was once known as Hell's Kitchen is to be completed in 1976.

The plague afflicting not only New York but the nation is the exploitation of the crudest kind of sex. A sheer porno film, "Deep Throat," has been playing to capacity audiences at $5 a throw. Made on a budget said to have been $35,000, it has already grossed close to $4 million.

The most sinister development is the reported move by the Mafia to take over the porno industry. The profits are quick and increasingly large and neither the police nor the courts seem to be able to put up any effective barrier to the exploitation of pornography.

If "Deep Throat," which is big-screen sex produced in a slightly more sophisticated fashion, is any criterion the profit margin is a thousand per cent or more. That is tempting bait for the Mafia, only recently exposed here with wholesale indictments returned against some of the allegedly biggest operators.

There is nothing unique about New York. It just happens to be bigger and more conspicuous than any other city suffering from the same ills. And the management, the governance, of New York happens also to be more difficult and more costly than that of any other metropolis.

Postal relief measure

The concept of cheap mail service as an important means of fostering widespread dissemination of ideas is as sound now as it was when it was first put into practice. The beneficial effects of this policy are endangered by postal rate increases which threaten to weaken or even kill off many newspapers and periodicals. The plight of such publications demands a legislative remedy.

A remedy is brewing in Congress. A bill just introduced in the Senate appears soundly designed to soften the blow without seriously hampering the U. S. Postal Service's efforts to make the mails self-sustaining as Congress intends.

Under this proposal, publications would be allowed to spread postal cost increases over 10 years instead of five as originally intended. A postal rate at least one-third lower than the normally applicable rate is authorized for newspapers and periodicals ranging up to 250,000 in circulation. To compensate the U. S. Postal Service for revenue losses resulting from this lower rate and from extension of the transition period, the bill provides for automatic reimbursement out of public funds.

The broadly bipartisan nature of this measure is symbolized by the fact that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts have joined in introducing it. The rationale of the bill is cogently summed up in the following excerpt from a statement by Goldwater at the time it was introduced: "I believe that in general the magazines, newspapers and other publications that would be most harshly affected by the increased rates have a great deal to contribute to American opinion and information." We concur in this, and urge passage of this postal relief measure.

Hal Boyle . . . Time for cliche drill

"Oh, goody, goody, teacher. Let's do. But what is a cliche? We forget."

A cliche is a bromidic expression. It is a word or phrase that has become tiresome through too much repetition. If you use too many cliches in your speech or writing, you bore your friends and enemies so much that they either quietly tiptoe away from you or hurry the wrong way around the block to keep from meeting you.

"We understand, teacher. Now tell us how to play the game. We're all ears."

It's quite simple, you little monsters. I simply ask you a question. And you answer it with a cliche. Ready? Here is the first question. What did the unpopular decision of the Supreme Court do to justice?

"Did it defeat the aims of justice?"

"Did it make a mockery of justice, teacher?"

Yes, yes, yes. Of course that's what it did. Now you're swinging class. Now, what kind of fish did the politician try to drag across the trail.

"Wasn't it a red herring he tried to drag across the trail?"

Indeed it was. Now, what is the only kind of a young American who is worthwhile?

"Do you mean a rough-cut, blue-veined 99 and 44 one-hundredths of a per cent young American?"

You are trying to pull your teacher's leg. Do you want a rap on the knuckles? Let's have the answer.

What else but? Now, let's say something nice about motherhood, class. What else does the hand do that rocks the cradle? Does it just hang by its side idly?

"No, no, no, teacher. Of course not. That hand is always busy, because the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world."

Yes, kiddies. You mothers would be proud to hear you say that. Now, do you know what kind of a spectacle of yourself you have made this morning, class?

"An inspiring spectacle, teacher?"

No, a sorry spectacle — because you know so many cliches already that when you grow up you'll be a bore to the world.

"Boo hoo, teacher. You've cut us to the quick — and that's the unkindest cut of all."

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1959, Fidel Castro was sworn in as the prime minister of Cuba.

On this date: In 1804, a force of American servicemen slipped into the North African port of Tripoli and burned a U.S. Navy frigate which had been captured by pirates.

In 1942, in World War II, German submarines fired on oil refineries on Aruba in the Dutch West Indies.

In 1945, American paratroopers started landing on Corregidor in the Philippines during World War II.

In 1967, 13 U.S. helicopters were shot down over South Vietnam.

Ten years ago: In city elections in West Berlin, the Social Democratic party of Mayor Willy Brandt swept to an unexpected landslide victory.

Five years ago: North Vietnam released three captured American pilots, and they were flown to Thailand en route home.

Ohio snow belt raked

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Driving was hazardous on snow-covered highways in northeastern Ohio Thursday night, and strong northerly winds threatened renewed damage to the Lake Erie shoreline.

The National Weather Service forecast up to six inches or more snow accumulation by morning across Ohio's snow belt, from Sandusky eastward. Elsewhere in the state, weather officials said the storm began to let up late Thursday night.

A handful of fatal accidents were reported as highways grew snow-packed, and Cleveland police said they were hard-pressed to keep freeways clear of stalled cars.

Lake winds of up to 25 miles an hour were reported, but the weather service said that storm damage along the coast would depend on how long the lakeedge ice held up.

No damage was reported immediately, and officials said there was no threat of flooding.

Dear Abby:

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What's all this fuss about how often a person should take a bath? My grandpa lived to be 98 years old. He was big and strong and was never sick a day in his life. He bathed only once a year, and that was done in a dam near our farm. Folks used to come from miles around just to watch Grandpa take his yearly bath.

AQUASCUTUM, TEX.

DEAR TEX: Good for grandpa. I'll bet nobody needed directions on how to find him.

DEAR ABBY: You're a dirty old female chauvinist! Your advice on bathing reflects that state of your mind.

What is natural is by no means "dirty" unless the mind is inclined that way. Cleanliness is indeed next to Godliness, but that same body is also the temple of the spirit of that God which dwells in man and womankind. I doubt if that God would dwell in an "unclean" temple.

You belong in India, where your views would allow you to label woman "unclean"- and "untouchable." Go soak your . . .

DEAR ABBY: Like all other human beings, you are entitled to your opinion. However, I think there must be some underlying motive in your statement that "women can't bathe enough."

Are you a secret agent for Proctor and Gamble? Or are you just weird?

"DIRTY GERTIE"

DEAR GERTIE: Neither. I just have a love affair going with soap. And that's no lie!

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to your reader who suggested that bathing regularly was tantamount to effete snobbism and totally unnecessary. It may be I am particularly susceptible to detecting this distinction, but I think I am not alone.

As physical recreation I regularly swim a mile in the campus pool during my lunch hour, and I find it surprisingly easy to distinguish who has and who has not showered before entering the pool and is swimming alongside me. There are many in the latter group who are prominent, important, and respected elder colleagues who would be the first to insist that all long-haired youths "smell bad"-not realizing that they smell far worse.

For what it is worth, I have found this an infallible way to discover who is and who is not nice to be near, the lambs or the old goats, one could say.

LOVES TO SWIN IN SANTA BARBARA

DEAR LOVES: I love for the lambs.

DEAR ABBY: You doll! Your statement, "A man should bathe once a day, and a woman can't bathe often enough" said it all. We are a group of men who must work in close quarters with some woman who do not believe in bathing. We clipped that column and placed it on the desks of the offending females, and believe it or not, things are a lot better around here now. No names please. Just sign this,

"WORKING IN CLOSE QUARTERS IN HIGHLAND PARK, ILL"

DEAR ABBY: I have been wanting to write to you for a long time because I have a very serious problem. I do not want my letter to appear in your column because this is a small town and everybody would know I wrote it.

I know that you say you will answer problems personally if the person send a stamped, addressed envelope, but I want to be sure that if the one I enclosed got lost, another one would not be sent to me with your name on the outside, advertising the fact that I wrote to Dear Abby.

Please hurry your answer in the column, and sign mev. . .

NEEDS YOUR HELP

DEAR NEEDS: You may write to me with absolute assurance that my personal reply will be sent in the envelope you provide, or a plain one. I NEVER send replies in envelopes bearing a hint of my name.

Something to think about

BY: NED KINZER

The thing that has stopped most people from getting ahead today is fear.

This fear is not always of the outside world, but a fear within themselves that they are incapable and unable to achieve the success which they wish again. Because they have failed in the first attempt to do a thing, this inward fear tells them that they will fail again and again.

Most successful people have experienced numerous setbacks, at one time or another, on their way up the ladder, but they never get discouraged and always seem to find enough courage to try once more.

Mrs. Grim honor guest at shower

Mrs. Paul Grim was honored at a layette shower given by Mrs. Richard Patton, Mrs. Marvin Roszmann and Mrs. Gary Shaffer in the Roszmann home.

'Family night' planned at Bloomingburg

A 'Family night' was planned by the women of the Bloomingburg United Methodist Church, when the group met in the home of Mrs. Frank Allen White Wednesday. It will be March 18 in the church at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Eli Craig conducted the meeting and Mrs. Robert Huff gave devotions and presented the program. The theme was "Living and Acting in Love."

Refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Willard Bitzer to 20 members.

The next meeting is planned for March 14 in the home of Mrs. Ralph Ashbaugh.

Baptist women hold meeting

The meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Sugar Creek Baptist Church was held in the home of Mrs. Charles Mills Jr., who had the devotions using the theme of "Love." The devotions were closed with prayer.

The quotas assigned the group have all been completed and mailed. The new Baptist Women papers were distributed. Mrs. Larry Noble and Mrs. Mander Boggs will be the visiting team for this month.

The next meeting will be March 1, at the home of Mrs. Olan Bentley.

Mrs. Ed Sanderson, spiritual life chairman, led a discussion on the Book of Job which the group read for the month. Mrs. Sanderson announced the Book of Proverbs would be the reading material for the month.

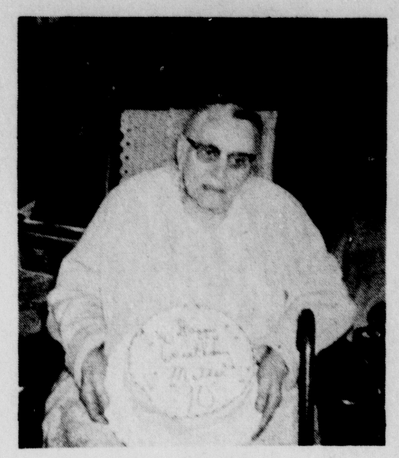
Refreshments were served by the hostess. It was announced that on Sunday Len Mink, a nationally known TV star, who is a regular on Cincinnati's Nick Clooney show, will be the guest speaker at the worship hour at the church. Mr. Mink will tell of his experiences and provide special music at the 10:45 a.m. service. The service is open to the public.

Matthew Craig is 6 years-old

Dr. and Mrs. Warren L. Craig and daughter, Jennifer, 220 N. North St., entertained with a birthday dinner Monday evening, honoring their son, Matthew, on his sixth birthday.

Mrs. Robert Reno, Hillsboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Craig, of Washington C. H., the grandparents, were present for the occasion.

A pretty white round lemon cake with a large "6" candle centered the cake surrounded by six small burning tapers. Cards and gifts were received by Matthew and pictures were taken on the happy day.



OBSERVES BIRTHDAY — Mrs. Bertha Woods, formerly of 525 N. North St., was guest of honor when members of her family assembled in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Steele, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville, with whom she now resides, for a 90th birthday dinner. She received many gifts, cards and calls for the occasion. One special call came from a granddaughter, Kathleen Sparkman, of Birmingham, Ala. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Winford Sparkman and children, Debbie, Sandy, Keith and Kevin, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Sparkman and daughter, Michelle, Xenia; Mrs. Hoffman Mitchell, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steele and son Nathan, Bloomingburg; Mr. and Mrs. Glidden Sparkman and children, Glidden Jr., Michael and Katrina; Jim Aldridge, Mrs. Charles Hines and children, Danny, Donna and Richard, all of Washington C.H. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoppes, of Springfield, were callers later in the day.

Fayette luncheon

Mrs. William Pentzer welcomed the Fayette Grandmothers Club to her home Thursday, when Mrs. Lee Cleland assisted in the noon luncheon. Mrs. Fred Feldman, president, conducted the meeting and led the Lord's Prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance. Devotions were presented by Mrs. Cleland, who read the inspirational poem, "It's a Blessed Secret."

Mrs. Arnold Wehner and Mrs. Thelma Jones were guests.

Plans for a bake sale later in the spring were discussed and the group voted to give donations to the Heart Fund, Red Cross and the American Cancer Society, Fayette County unit.

Also present were Mrs. Marvene Deskins, Mrs. Carl Garrett, Mrs. L.W. Herbst, Mrs. Louis Thomson and Mrs. Walter Taylor.

Loyal Daughters aid project

Mrs. Russell Knapp was hostess to the Loyal Daughters Class of First Christian Church and Mrs. William Rulon, vice president, conducted the business meeting. "Moment by Moment" was the title of the opening article, and Mrs. Zoe Follis read from I Corinthians: 13. This was followed by reports.

The group voted to give a cash donation to the "Meals on Wheels" project, and planned a 'fun party' for later in April.

During the social hour, Valentines were made, and the winners were Mrs. Ray Rittenhouse, Mrs. Ward Brown and Mrs. Orpha Willis.

Refreshments were served. Present were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Eugene Cook, Mrs. Walter Elliott, Mrs. Follis, Mrs. Ted Merritt, Mrs. Ralph Morris, Mrs. Rulon, Mrs. Rittenhouse, Mrs. Willis and the hostess.

Wedding in Bangkok is announced here

The American Embassy in Bangkok was the setting for the marriage of Miss Micki Ann Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wade, Rt. 1, Greenfield, and Sp4 Danile Alan Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Pierce, 816 Willard St.

The civil ceremony was performed at 10 a.m. Jan. 16 by Miss Aroon Omepion. Witnesses for the wedding ceremony were Wesley E. Jorgensen, American Consul General, and Chalat Meewan, second to the ambassador.

The new Mrs. Pierce, a 1971 graduate of Miami Trace High School, attended Ohio State University. Her husband, a 1970 graduate of Washington Senior High School, also attended OSU, and graduated from International Data Processing Institute, in Detroit, Mich., and from Advanced individual training in accounting at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. He is now a comptroller for the U.S. Army.

Their new address is Sp.4 and Mrs. Daniel A. Pierce, 281-52-4816, 7th RRFS, Box 1212, APO SF. 96386.

Cecilian Music Club meets with Mrs. Case

The February meeting of the Cecilian Music Club was held in the home of Mrs. John P. Case.

Mrs. Gerald Wheat, president, opened the meeting by welcoming the 24 members present and introducing three guests, Mrs. Helen Dowler, Mrs. Margaret Case and Mrs. Charles H. Snyder.

In observance of the parade of American music, she read the peom "American for Me" by Henry Van-Dyke. The hymn-of-the-month "I Would Be True" was sung by the group, accomplished by Mrs. Case at the organ. The scholarship fund was taken.

Mrs. Case, program chairman, assisted by Mrs. David Fabb, Mrs. Jack Brennan and Mrs. Charles Sheridan, presented the guest pianist, Mrs. Snyder. She recently gave a concert in Carnegie Hall in New York. She gave a brief history of each composer.

She played compositions of Edward McDowell, a romantic composer, including "To a Wild Rose" and "Sonata Tragica in G Minor"; also, Charles Griffes, an individualistic and impressionistic composer, whose works she played were "The White Peacock" and "The Fountain of the Acqua Paola"; and George Gershwin, a composer who took jazz to concert. She played his "Three Preludes."

It was a well-presented selection of music.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. G. B. Vance, chairman, Mrs. Sidney Terhune, Mrs. Ralph Waln, Mrs. Walter Morrow, Mrs. Charles Stemple and Miss Mabel Briggs.

The next meeting will be March 13 in the home of Mrs. Grove Davis.

Mrs. Sheeley presents book review of Lincoln

The review of the book "Abraham Lincoln and the Prairie Years" by Carl Sandburg, was presented to members of the Jeffersonville Progress Club, when the group met in the home of Miss Helen Fults. The presentation was made by Mrs. John Sheeley.

Mrs. Sheeley said that nothing new can be said of Mr. Lincoln, but that he was "a mountain of grandeur in soul, and a sea in deep undervoice of mystic loneliness."

A dessert course was served during the social hour. The club will meet Feb. 27 with Mrs. Max Morrow, and Mrs. Charles Seibert will be co-hostess.

Mrs. Pettit DAYP hostess

Mrs. Arthur Pettit was hostess to the DAYP Club when 13 members assembled in her home. Mrs. Ruth Smith, president, conducted a brief business meeting and Mrs. Carrie Wilt and Mrs. Smith gave appropriate readings. A donation was made to the Heart Fund. Cards were signed for Mrs. Jane Carter, a patient in University Hospital, Columbus, and Mrs. Ella Speakman.

Members sewed and crocheted during the afternoon. Refreshments, on a Valentine motif, were served to Mrs. Harold Callender, Mrs. Immel Howard, Mrs. Leonard Blessing, Mrs. Wilt, Mrs. Laverne Morgan, Mrs. Sue Smith, Mrs. Ruth Moore, Mrs. Howard Williams, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Charles Curtin, Mrs. Clifton Roberts and Mrs. Carl Wilt.

The next meeting will be March 13.

Beta Omega chapter meets

Mrs. Loretta George was hostess to the Beta Omega chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, for the February meeting.

It was announced that tickets for the quarter of beef drawing are available from any member. Plans were reviewed for the dance to be held by the three chapters of ESA, the Alpha Theta, Beta Omega and Delta Rho.

Guests visit Homemakers

Four guests were welcomed by the Bloomingburg Homemakers when the group met with Mrs. Zoe Garinger for a carry-in noon luncheon Thursday. They were Mrs. Lena Trotter, of Illinois, who is a guest of Mrs. Daisy Gossard, in Washington C. H., this week, Mrs. Elmer Welch, of Bloomingburg, and Mrs. Cecil Smith and Mrs. Bess Lanum, of Washington C. H. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Lucy Randolph and Mrs. Jean Brown.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Nora Oswald. Members answered roll call by naming historical places which they have visited.

Mrs. John Gibeaut will be the March 15 hostess, when a noon carry-in luncheon will be featured.

If you are on a low-sodium diet, remember that herb and wine vinegars contain more sodium than cider vinegar.

Soup's on

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

WHETHER it's served as an appetite-arousing first course, or whether it's hearty enough to appear as a main dish, a soup should be knowingly spiced. Certain spices are especially good in hearty soups — allspice berries, bay leaf, garlic, celery and onion products, black and white pepper. For chicken soup, consider ginger, tarragon, rosemary or nutmeg. Thyme, saffron and mace are among the spices that build up the flavor of fish and seafood soups.

On a cold day, Hot Pot Soup hits the spot. The trick is to let a beef shin simmer slowly for several hours to extract all its brothy goodness. Twenty minutes before cooking time's up, add an assortment of vegetables to the pot.

HOT POT SOUP

2½ pounds beef shin
Cold water to cover
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon whole allspice
⅛ teaspoon whole black pepper
2 whole red peppers
2 cups diced carrots
2 cups diced turnips
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, broken-up
1 package (9 ounces) frozen cut green beans
2 tablespoons onion flakes
2 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons cold water

In a large saucepan combine beef shin, water, salt, allspice, black pepper and red pepper. Cover and simmer 3 hours.

Remove meat from soup and strain stock. Cut meat from bones and return to stock along with vegetables. Cook until vegetables are tender, about 20 minutes.

Mix flour with water. Stir into soup and cook until slightly thickened, about 5 minutes.

Makes 3 quarts.

FISHERMAN'S CHOWDER

½ cup onion flakes
3 1-3 cups water, divided
2 tablespoons oil
2 cups sliced potatoes
¼ cup mixed vegetable flakes
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon garlic powder
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons flour
2 small bay leaves
1 pound frozen fish fillets, thawed and cut into chunks
½ pound peeled and deveined shrimp

Rehydrate onion flakes in 1-3 cup of the water for 10 minutes.

In a large saucepan heat oil. Add onion and saute 5 minutes. Remove from heat; add remaining 3 cups water, potatoes, vegetable flakes, salt, garlic powder and black pepper. Bring to boiling point. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 15 minutes or until potatoes are almost tender.

Woman who uses maiden name says she's not 'hung up' on titles

By JOY KRAUSE
Milwaukee Journal Writer

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — "When a woman marries, she doesn't have to become a "Mrs. Him," said a happily married Madison woman who legally resumed use of her maiden name.

Stephanie Twin was Mrs. Richard Smuckler for three years before she appealed to Dane County Circuit Judge Norris Maloney to restore her original name. She had the full support of her husband.

She now uses the title "Ms." because she feels that women should not be labeled by their married status. "Ms." denotes only that the bearer is female. "If people have to use a title, that's it," she said. "But I'm not hung up on titles. I'd rather be called Stevie."

With assistance from University of Wisconsin law student Linda Roberson and lawyer Alan Koritzinsky, Ms. Twin obtained the legal name change and at the same time learned of two Wisconsin state attorney general rulings of 1902 and 1931 which specify that a person can use any name as long as there is no attempt to defraud.

Judge Maloney ordered the change because he said he had never heard of any law requiring a married woman to take her husband's name.

Richard Smuckler not only agreed with his wife's determination to resume use of her maiden name, but he had encouraged her to make the change a year ago.

"My husband wanted this — he didn't like making me become a little Mrs. Richard Smuckler," she said. "and he's happy to have his name back too."

"On principle, I'm personally opposed to having a 'Mrs.' attached to my name, just as a woman might be opposed to a 'Mr.' being attached to hers," Smuckler said.

"My husband and I have the same goals in life," Ms. Twin said. "We share life together as two human beings — not as homemaker and breadwinner."

The couple agreed that the custom of a woman assuming her husband's name was a remnant of a bygone era when a wife was viewed as part of a man's property.

"Your name is symbolic of your own identity," Smuckler said. "People want their personal identity. It's something that both men and women are going to have to think about. We're happy with the way we're living our life. We're just acting out what we believe in."

The university refused to change the policy on the use of married women's names on school records until it was threatened recently with a class action law suit, Ms. Twin said. A married woman student asked the university to change its records from her married name to her maiden name. Her request was initially denied. The change was made after a lawyer said he would file a lawsuit.

Her name change is a legal and social symbol of her values and convictions, Ms. Twin said. For most married women, she said, barriers to resuming use of their maiden names are psychological rather than legal. "It's not the ordinary thing to do, but I'd encourage other women to do it. You are known by your name for 20 years and it means something," she said.

Although she was apprehensive about reaction to her name change, Ms. Twin said that many people were sympathetic. "I was kind of afraid to tell people at first. I thought most people would feel I was silly."

When she is asked why she switched back to her maiden name, she answers with a question, "Why change your name in the first place?"

Some people try to stereotype her as a women activist, she said. "I'm in the movement," she said. "I've marched. I'm not masculine or ugly. But, people like stereotypes. If you don't fit the stereotype they write you off," she said.

The couple has decided to hyphenate the last name of their children, Twin-Smuckler. "When they come of age they can choose either or neither," Ms. Twin said.

She is specializing in women's history and will begin work for a doctorate in the subject at Rutgers University. Her husband will complete his doctoral dissertation there.

"Most of history is men's history — politics and wars," Ms. Twin said. "I'm asking, 'Where were the women? What did they think?' "

Her research has not been complicated by a lack of information about historical women, she said. "The material is there. The problem is that no one asks the questions."

GINGERED CHICKEN SOUP

2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed chikden broth, diluted
1 can (5½ ounces) chicken, slivered
1 teaspoon ground ginger
¾ cup onion flakes
2-3 cup water
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 can (1 pound) bean sprouts, drained
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

In a medium saucepan bring chicken broth to the boiling point. Add chicken and ginger. Reduce heat and simmer covered for 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, rehydrate onion flakes in water for 10 minutes. In a medium skillet heat salad oil. Stir in onion and bean sprouts; saute for 5 minutes. Add sauteed vegetables to soup. Ladle soup into bowls or mugs and garnish with sliced egg.

Serves 6.

MISS DEBORAH J. ORR

May wedding planned

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur T. Orr, of New Holland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Jean, to Gary Fountain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fountain, Rt. 1, Washington C. H.

Both are former graduates of Miami Trace High School.

An open-church wedding will be an event of May 20.

The results of such infections are appalling and the extent of infections appear to be growing at an alarming rate, Mrs. Hidy said. Questions were answered throughout the program.

The business of the evening concerned the philanthropic project for the year. Baby clothing was brought so that it might be delivered to the hospital soon.

Mrs. Richard Hughes was welcomed as a new member. Appropriate dress for the next meeting was described, since it will be a visit to the Health Spa.

Following adjournment, the group enjoyed a social hour.

Ladies bridge winners named

Winners at the weekly ladies bridge-luncheon, held at the Country Club, were Mrs. Stanley Chitty, Mrs. Grace Goodwin and Mrs. Wayne Shobe.

Spring flowers were on the bridge tables and guests were Mrs. Chitty, Mrs. Frank Alexander and Mrs. Renald Robinson. There were 21 present for the occasion.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. McKinley Kirk, chairman, Mrs. Carl Elberfeld and Mrs. B. M. Slagle.

Buena Vista Aid reports activities

The Buena Vista Ladies Aid voted to donate to the Heart Association and the local kindergarten ciass, when members met in the Buena Vista Township Hall Wednesday. Following a carry-in luncheon and social hour, the group sang a hymn accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Anders at the piano.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. Anders, and Mrs. Bina Rude gave the invocation.

For roll call, members named their favorite salad. Activities reported included 18 cards and 14 flowers sent, 13 calls, and seven donations.

Three guests, Mrs. Manford Hamilton, Mrs. Ocie Smith and Master Terry Johnson were present, along with members Mrs. Nathaniel Blackstone, Mrs. Noah Lee, Mrs. Harlan Johnson, Mrs. Rude, Mrs. Albert Haines, Mrs. Harold W. Haines, Mrs. Anders and Mrs. Eddie Corzatt.

Mrs. Corzatt was in charge of the program and each member participated by giving a reading. Mrs. Blackstone was winner of a contest and Mrs. Eddie Corzatt read a "Valentine Prayer."

The next meeting is scheduled for March 14 in the Township House and Mrs. Rude will be program chairman.

To unmold gelatin salads and desserts successfully, rinse mold with cold water or brush lightly with salad oil before pouring in the gelatin mixture. To unmold, run a thin knife or spatula around the edge. Hold mold in very hot water up to the rim a few seconds. Invert over serving dish and give mold a quick hard shake.

Mr. Lynch guest speaker for Legion Auxiliary

Dale Lynch, history teacher at Washington Junior High School, was guest speaker at the Unit 25, American Legion Auxiliary meeting held in the home of Mrs. Philip Binzel. Mrs. William Williams opened the meeting in regular form and Miss Verna Williams, chaplain, offered prayer.

Mr. Lynch had attended the Valley Forge Freedom Foundation's annual Teacher's Seminar held in July at Valley Forge, Pa. He was one of nine teachers in Ohio attending the Seminar and all were sponsored by the Department of Ohio American Legion Auxiliary.

The Foundation is located on 105 acres in Valley Forge Park and was founded in the mid-1940's for the purpose of granting awards and recognition to those who furthered the cause of freedom in this country. The Foundation, which has a college-like atmosphere, consists of two dormitories, cafeteria, classrooms and many excellent libraries.

Three seminars are offered each summer to teachers of history and social studies and each lasts for three weeks. Class lectures are held each morning and afternoon followed by small group discussions. A week of study was devoted to each of the following subjects: philosophy of freedom, internal threats to national security and external threats to national security.

Mr. Lynch noted that there were teachers from every state in the union. They attended the lectures, and visisted historical sites in Valley Forge and Philadelphia.

Mrs. Lawson Rhoads reported that she and Miss Williams made the monthly visit to Chillicothe VA Hospital whey were served refreshments to 54 patients. Cookies were baked by Miss Williams, Mrs. Rhoads, Miss Nell Fogle, Mrs. Ed Warning and Miss Mary Lee Warning.

The monthly birthday party for patients Thursday was attended by Mrs. Rhoads and Mrs. Chester Clay. Cakes were brought by Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Ned Kinzer Jr. and Mrs. Williams..

Mrs. Binzel, Americanism chairman, announced that six delegates will be sent to the 1973 Girls' State. The co-sponsoring organizations are the Lioness Club, Business and Professional Women's Club and Phi Beta Psi Sorority.

The American Legion newsletter, "Firing Line" will again be distributed among the libraries, physicians and dentists offices for the public interest.

Mrs. Charles Williams, district Americanism chairman, reported on the Auxiliary's annual mid-winter conference in January, held at the Neil House in Columbus, with 463 delegates from throughout the state attending.

Mrs. R.B. McCoy Jr. was a special guest. Mrs. Binzel was assisted in the hospitalities by Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Ray Jennings.

CCL husbands' party

Members of Alpha Child Conservation League, their husbands and friends, were entertained Wednesday evening in Mahan Hall by eight students from the Washington C. H. and Greenfield schools of karate. Their instructor, Al Conaway, was also a guest.

Students giving demonstrations were Annetta Smith, Glenna Haithcock, Tom McClung and Don Ladd, of Washington C. H., and Debbic Rickman, Carol Cagg, Roger Dillard and Bill Thomas, of Greenfield.

A smorgasbord dinner preceded the demonstrations and all of the men were presented crowns to wear. Mrs. Richard Waters gave the invocation and Mrs. Paul Ream the devotions.

The committee for the evening was composed of Mrs. Kenneth Warner, chairman, Mrs. Ream, Mrs. Allen O. McClung and Mrs. Waters.

The group was seated at tables which formed a "U" and a Valentine theme prevailed. Eight Valentine "Trees" centered the tables, along with heart-shaped candies and hearts. At each place setting was a miniature box of chocolates. On the officers' table was an arrangement of red and white carnations.

Those present were guests, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Alkire, Mr. and Mrs. William Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dill, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Fries, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurtt, Mrs. Willard Greer, Mrs. Margaret Helfrich, Mrs. John Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Liston, Mr. and Mrs. Russell McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. George Naylor, Mrs. Clyde Palmer, Mrs. Allen McClung, Mrs. Howard Thompson, Mrs. Ream, Mr. and Mrs. Waters and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Whiteside.

Mrs. Hizer conducts Auxiliary meet

Mrs. John Hizer, president of the Eagles Auxiliary, conducted the regular meeting of the Auxiliary when 26 members and a guest, Mrs. Frances Bauer, of Indiana, were present.

An invitation was extended to the group from the Linden Auxiliary for Feb. 18, when the guest speaker will be the state president.

A 'Dime a Ladle' dinner was discussed. The date will be set and committees appointed at the next meeting.

Eight applications were voted on and accepted to membership.

A potluck supper will be held at the next meeting, at 6 p.m., Feb. 26, with initiation to follow at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Mildred Ivers received the attendance award and Mrs. Hazel Bonner the secret package.

True Blue class meets

The True Blue class of Grace United Methodist Church met Tuesday in the church parlor with 11 members, Rev. and Mrs. Everad Broberg and Mrs. Roy Wipert present.

Mrs. Mary Crone, president, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Robert Case gave devotions by reading the Sermon on the Mount.

Reports were read and approved and correspondence read. Mrs. Mary Brownlee, Mrs. Pauline Lewellen and Mrs. Carrie Lucas were named to the nominating committee to present a slate of officers at the next meeting in April.

Mrs. Dorothy Davis introduced Mrs. Doris Wipert, who gave an interesting account of the Songfests that they hosted in the 1940's and 50's, and as speaker in the years of the Farmers Institutes.

The Rev. Mr. Broberg closed with prayer and all were invited to the dining room for refreshments, carrying out the Valentine theme.

Kim Looker guest of honor

A surprise birthday party honoring Miss Kim Elaine Looker, was held in the home of Mrs. Danny Thomas, for her 18th birthday. Assisting Mrs. Thomas were Kim's mother, Mrs. Helen Looker and Mrs. Dale Allen.

Kim received many pretty gifts.

WOM enrolls two new members

Moose Hall was the setting for a meeting of the Women of the Moose Wednesday evening, with two new members enrolled. Mrs. Georgianna Evans and Mrs. Joyce Dilley accepted the obligation and Mrs. Frances Bauer, of Indiana, was a special guest for the evening.

The group voted to give donations to Moosheart for stationary and to the Moose Easter fund.

The Moose Sweetheart Dance is planned for 8 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Saturday in Moose hall, for members and their guests.

Mrs. George Gray, chaplain, was in charge of closing the meeting and refreshments were served.

Bidding Quiz

1. ♠ AJ7 ♥ KQ93 ♦ KJ5 ♣ 872
2. ♠ AJ532 ♥ KQ987 ♦ AQ4 ♣ —
3. ♠ KQ6 ♥ AJ9 ♦ KQ7 ♣ Q953
4. ♠ AKQJ9 ♥ — ♦ J852 ♣ A763
5. ♠ QJ92 ♥ Q985 ♦ J ♣ Q854

1. One heart. It is tempting to bid two notrump (forcing), but this would violate a cardinal principle, namely, that the first step in constructive bidding is to explore the possibility of a major suit fit.

It is certainly possible for partner to have four hearts and find it inconvenient to bid them over two notrump, and you might never locate the heart fit. Responding with a heart does not preclude the possibility of winding up in notrump, but responding with two notrump may forever lose the chance of finding a 4-4 heart fit.

2. One spade. To respond one spade, instead of two, may seem a huge underbid, but that is the right response opposite a club bid by partner. Had partner opened with a diamond instead of a club, a jump-shift to two spades would be entirely in order. The hand is worth much more, for both game and slam purposes, when partner bids a diamond.

3. Three notrump. This shows 16 or 17 points, notrump distribution (nearly always 4-3-3-3), and strength in the three unbid suits. Three notrump is by no means a signoff bid; on the contrary, it suggests a slam if partner has significantly more than a minimum opening bid.

4. Two spades. With a self-sufficient suit and a fit in partner's clubs, it is best to alert partner at once to the possibility of a slam by jump-shifting to two spades — even though there are only 15 high-card points. Over an opening heart bid you would respond only one spade, following the general principle of discounting your values when a misfit exists and adding to your values when a fit is known to exist.

5. One heart. You have the right values for a raise to two clubs — showing 6 to 9 points and at least four clubs — but it is nevertheless best to inaugurate the search for a major suit fit.

You bid hearts, rather than spades, in order to achieve the maximum chance of finding a 4-4 major fit. If you were to respond one spade, you might never find the heart fit if it existed. By naming hearts first, you leave room for partner to locate either major suit fit in the one level.

Ohio Perspective

'Recruiting Committee' just show

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr., won his "recruiting committee" to attract new candidates to the Ohio Republican fold for 1974, but the victory may be hollow.

The committee may never meet.

On the surface, Sen. Taft appeared to win his fight with the Ohio GOP organization. He feared former Gov. James A. Rhodes, who has his own slate for 1975, still controlled the state committee.

But, it looked less like a power collision and more like public relations after the fact.

During a news conference, John S. Andrews, GOP state chairman, said he didn't know when the 11-member committee would meet. Another committee member may have put it into perspective later the same day:

"It will never meet, and it will never make a recommendation," he told a colleague.

Primary aim of the committee's formation, it appeared, was to stop Taft-Rhodes feuding, a bitter hangover from their 1970 primary fight which Taft won.

Both Taft and Andrews, at separate news conferences, said they doubted the new committee would make endorsements.

The idea, it appeared, was to publicize new names and new faces who could possibly be candidates.

Other than that, it is nothing," said one member of the State Central Committee. "The man with the grass roots strength will still call the shots."

Rhodes believes he's that man. But, so does Taft, State Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens and others.

The firm got a $200,000 contract earlier this month to promote the 1973 Ohio State Fair. It had already handled $193,583 worth of Department of Economic and Community Development business.

The figure is expected to jump another $32,000 by the end of the fiscal year June 30. Marcus is in line to get $260,000 of that department's business during the next biennium.

Donald H. Marcus, agency president, said the firm would actually realize $30,000 — or 15 per cent — out of the state fair contract. Other Marcus commissions — past or planned — will total about $58,000.

Some zoologists place pandas in the bear family; others say they are related to raccoons, National Geographic says. Smithsonian Institution scientists believe they belong in a separate family of their own.

Crash sounds alarm

A towmotor at Redman Industries, 200 Kenskill Ave., hit a fire alarm conduit Thursday afternoon, sending firemen scurrying to the Industrial Park plant. The alarm sounded at 2:25 p.m. but there was no blaze, firemen reported.

Probationary sentence in Redman theft case

William Suiter, 31, Staunton, was sentenced to 30 days in the Fayette County jail and was placed on probation for three years when he appeared before Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn W. Coffman on a grand jury indictment of grand larceny.

A sentence of one to seven years in the Ohio Penitentiary was suspended.

Suiter was indicted by the grand jury in January on three counts of grand larceny involving the theft of dinette sets, living room furniture and electrical fixtures from Redman Industries, Inc., 2000 Kenskill Ave. He was arrested Nov. 18 after Washington C. H. and Hillsboro officers found an estimated $5,000-$12,000 in materials in a Hillsboro house.

A nolle prosequi motion was accepted on the other two indictments.

The probation terms include that he make restitution for any losses sustained as a result of the larceny and return all property belonging to Redman Industries which has not been disposed of or destroyed.

Suiter also was ordered to obey all laws, be industrious and discreet in his conduct, associate with no persons of questionable character nor persons on parole or probation and avoid all places of ill repute. He was also ordered to abstain from the use of intoxicating beverages and all narcotics and refrain from all forms of gambling.

Judge Coffman also ordered Suiter to make every effort to obtain and remain employed and not leave the state without the written permission of the probation officer. He was ordered to pay court costs and to report to the probation officer at such times as the officer determines.

Len Mink booked at rural church

Nationally known TV star Len Mink, presently a regular on Nick Clooney's show in Cincinnati, will be guest speaker during the worship hour Sunday at the Sugar Creek Baptist Church, three miles northwest of Washington C. H. on U. S. 35.

Mink had his own weekly show for nearly two years with the Scripps - Howard Broadcasting Co. He has appeared on Johnny Carson's "Tonight Show," Merv Griffin's show and the Mike Douglas show. He has had 32 concerts with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, including the lead in a recent world premiere.

He will tell the Sugar Creek congregation of what he considers a "miraculous cure" of a blood disease he had developed and his reasons for accepting Christ. He will also provide special music at the 10:45 a.m. service. The public is invited.

Fayette Airport News

By JUDY DENNIS

JAN. 28 THROUGH FEB. 3

We had a very bad beginning this week, with rain all day Sunday, turning to freezing rain and snow. This left our runway a shining mirror of ice by Monday morning - pretty but useless. By late afternoon, however, the runway was back in use, and we were back in business.

After phoning to check our weather conditions here, Roger Booco came in from South Carolina in the University's Cessna 320. Their 320 is a beautiful twin-engine plane with a red fighting cock painted on the tail. Roger picked up an athletic coach in Cincinnati, flew to Pickaway County Airport where he picked up a ballplayer, and then came here where he refueled for the return trip.

Bill instructed Tom Preston on commerical maneuvers, and Curt Hiser and Keith Houghton were fooling around in the Cherokee. When Keith and Curt get together, I think there is more horseplay than practicing!

Tuesday a DeHaviland 125 (jet) came from Willow Run, Mich., with executives from the Hoover Ball Bearing Co. The passengers were met by officials of the Greenfield Plastics Co. I was standing outside when the jet took off for the return trip, and it seemed I could feel the ground vibrate with it's tremendous surge of power on take-off.

IN THE afternoon, Gary Meyers, Greenfield, flew solo, practicing his take-offs and landings, and Barbara Abernathy received instruction - also on take-offs and landings.

Millard French took Deborah Sears for an evening flight which she stated she thoroughly enjoyed.

It was a particularly nice day Wednesday, and we were deluged with transient aircraft. I didn't keep track of everybody, but among the visitors were people from Ocean City, Md., in a Cherokee Arrow; men from Erie, Pa., in an Aztec, and "Shag" Ulen and his brother who flew here from our Ross County Airport. Doc Pfersick and Jim Vess flew to Madison County Airport to check on Jim's plane which is getting a new coat of paint. Barbara Abernathy flew dual with Bill, and Kenny Smith, Doc Yager and Louis Poole were each flying solo. Kenny and Doc were flying just for fun, but Louis was practicing because he hopes to be flight-tested before long.

The rest of the week was bad weatherwise, so we had no flying. However, we are pleased to report one accomplishment - Keith Houghton received the results of his instructor's examination and passed with flying colors.

FEB. 4 THROUGH FEB. 10

Sunday was a happy, busy day. Several pilots and their friends and families were enjoying the nice weather. When they weren't flying, they were in the office enjoying the "tall stories" and usual kidding and horseplay that goes on around here.

Don Morrow took Ralph Detty and two of his sons for a fliight, and Bob Noftsger, Steve Ingle and Rex Hurless flew here from Haas Airport in Bob's Cessna 170. Billy Boggs came down in his Taylorcraft from Grove City and picked up Keith Houghton for some aerobatics. Gary Meyers graduated from practicing take-offs and landings, to the practice area where Bill showed him how to do several maneuvers. Dr. Pfersick was flying his Skyhawk, and Howard Wright and Jim Roberds, VA students, were each flying solo.

Tom Romph returned from a trip to Cleveland, where he, Mrs. Romph, and their little son had gone to visit Tom's family. Tom had scheduled this trip for about three different weekends previously, but had had to cancel due to bad weather.

Monday surprised us, as it is usually rather quiet after the weekend. However, our two planes were in the air a total of nine hours. We are still short an aircraft, as one of our Cessnas is undergoing an engine over-haul.

Students flying solo were Ron Fitzwater and Ken Mathias, each on cross-country flights, and Steve Warner and Louis Poole, local flights.

Bill flew dual with Barb Abernathy, and also flight-tested Bill Housch of Hillsboro, issuing him a private license. Local pilots owning their own aircraft were also flying.

A new student, Earl Webb from Dayton, flew here in his Citabria to check with Bill on dual instruction in a "tail dragger". This is an aircraft with two main wheels in front and a small wheel under the tail. Earl has been with us every day since, so I'm beginning to believe he's pretty dedicated. Earl does a nice job flying, and should be ready for his flight test before long.

The rest of the week, until Friday, was uneventful. On Friday, Keith Houghton flew to Columbus to get his last written exam out of the way. This one was the Federal Aviation Agency's instrument flight exam. He is now anxiously watching the mail for his results and wondering "Did I pass or flunk?"

Kenny Smith, Millard French and Steve Warner were each flying, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pendergraft flew to Port Columbus for dinner at the Dobbs House.

FRIDAY EVENING, Bill and I drove to the Ross County Airport where we started another Private Pilot Ground School class. I worked on FAA and VA student records for our Ross County

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SATURDAY, FEB. 17

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Your mate or business partner may have some definite ideas about basic security requirements. Even if you do not agree at first, keep an open mind. A good compromise is possible.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

You may feel the weight of pressure in certain occupational issues. Don't try to force your own views. Listen — and learn. Superiors will be impressed.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

A complex situation indicated. Play for time until certain factors are cleared up. This is one time where the "waiting game" will prove beneficial.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

You MUST stay on the beam now. Some practical issues demand attention and you may have a tendency to skip details. This could be costly.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Greater recognition for your efforts indicated. Shake off a current tendency toward self-doubt. Don't forget: You are a born leader. Prove it!

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Check all documents, contracts, legal papers generally with even more care than usual. Some misleading, even outrightly deceptive practices call for extreme caution.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

If you have been planning any changes in your home or property, now is a good time to start making them. Family will not only approve — but will help.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Friends will be especially helpful now — especially in being able to supply some much-needed data. They will also be able to give you certain objective insights which will prove invaluable in the future.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

A good day for finalizing agreements. Some unusual background activity will provide the spark that hurries matters through more quickly than expected.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Take nothing for granted now and avoid jumping to conclusions. What seems a certainty could be otherwise. One more admonition: Don't try to force issues.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Routine and detail work will probably bore you now, so get busy on a creative project you've had in mind for some time. Influences stimulate original ideas.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

A better day for completing old projects than for beginning new ones. In leisure time, devote yourself to a creative hobby.

YOU BORN TODAY are highly intuitive, imaginative and creative in your leanings. You like people and aim to please, which you do very charmingly and sincerely. You are active, mentally and physically. Using all your faculties, you should have a most happy and gainful life. You surmount obstacles easily and have the power to stride rapidly from small beginnings to outstanding successes — with many friends rooting for you. Many artists, statesmen, scientists, writers and decorators have been Aquarius-born.

Local school principals at state meeting

Seven Miami Trace and Washington City School District administrative officials are attending the 15th annual professional conference of the Ohio Association of Elementary School Principals in Columbus. The conference opened Thursday and continues through Saturday.

Miami Trace District principals attending are Jean Creamer, New Holland; Gordon McCarty, Jeffersonville; Miss Joan Black, Bloomingburg, and Glenn Hutchison, Wayne and Wilson Elementary Schools. Attending from the city district are Hugh Rea, elementary coordinator; Robert Angus, Belle Aire principal, and Lewis Parrett, principal at Rose Avenue and East Side schools. Mrs. June Slaughter, supervisor of elementary education in the Miami Trace District, is attending the Southeast Regional International Reading Association Conference being held in Louisville, Ky.

The conference in Columbus is being held at the Ohio Expositions Center. Mike Wallace, CBS newsman, was the featured speaker at a banquet Thursday night.

The theme of the meeting is "Ideas Into Action." Delegates will attend a series of clinics on Friday, and on Saturday officers of the organization will be installed.

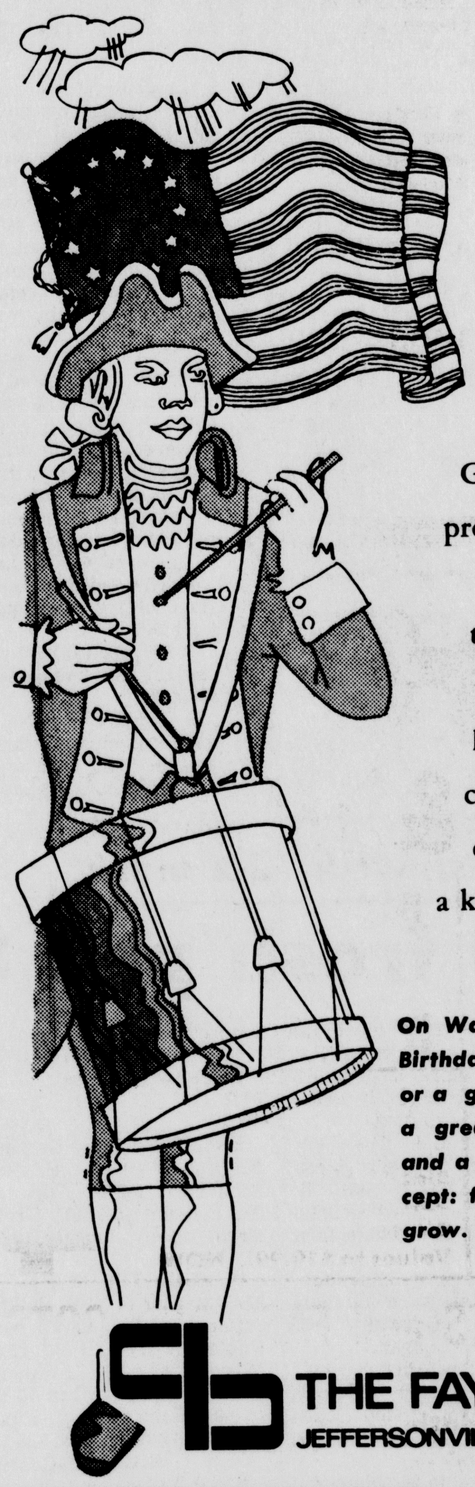
Washington's Birthday



First In The Hearts Of His Countrymen...

George Washington . . . our first president, "Father of his country" . . . set standards for Americans that we revere today as we have throughout our nation's life: honesty, initiative, perseverence, courage, fair play and the democratic ideal. He could have been a king. He chose to be an example.

On Washington's Birthday, we honor a great man, a great country and a great concept: freedom to grow. Enjoy it.

WITH A NEW STRING OF DEPENDABLE DODGES FOR '73.

'73 POLARA.
GREAT ENGINEERING MAKES THE DIFFERENCE.

It's an easy step up in price to get Dodge Polara's full-sized looks, luxury, and equipment. But it's the engineering features, such as Electronic Ignition and Torsion-Quiet Ride, that really make Polara an outstanding buy.

NEW DART SPORT.
3 CARS IN 1.

It's like three cars for the price of one: Dodge Dart Sport! It's a five-passenger coupe. It's a sun roof convertible, with the optional sliding metal roof. And it serves as a station wagon, with the optional fold-down rear seat that leaves a six-and-a-half-foot flat floor.

NEW DODGE CLUB CAB.
EXTRA CARGO SPACE INSIDE THE CAB.

It's another Dodge exclusive! A pickup with 34 cubic feet of cargo space inside the cab to keep things under cover. And both the Club Cab and Dodge regular cab pickups include a long list of standard features, such as Electronic Ignition.

Lions, MT on threshold of SCOL history

Stage set for key showdown tonight

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Sports Editor

The stage is set for the show of strength between Washington C.H. and Miami Trace tonight at the WSHS gymnasium.

A bulging at the seams crowd is expected for the contest in which at least a share of the 45th South Central Ohio League Basketball championship will be at stake. It'll be SCOL history, since the two teams have never met to decide a title issue when the loser would become the unlucky team.

The game, which was destined to have a special meaning all along, will be the regular season finale for both Washington C.H. and Miami Trace.

Bob Bane, athletic director at Washington C.H., said an extra set of bleachers has been installed in the upper level of the WSHS gym, but school officials will close admissions when they feel the gym is in a safe maximum capacity. Doors open at 5:45 p.m.

Parents of the Washington C.H. senior players and cheerleaders will be honored in ceremonies between the reserve and varsity games, and the Fayette County 'Queen of Hearts' will be announced at halftime of the varsity game. The reserve game starts at 6:30 p.m.

Friday's 26th renewal of the mythical Fayette County basketball championship series is the feature attraction on the final three-game SCOL schedule of the campaign.

In other action, Circleville's Tigers will be hoping to spear a share of the SCOL title when they embark on the most dreaded road trip among league teams at Greenfield, and Wilmington entertains a dangerous Hillsboro team.

Miami Trace will risk a glittering six-game winning string when head coach Jan Stauffer's Panthers and the title-hungry Washington C. H. bunch match identical 6-3 SCOL records in tonight's 8 p.m. showdown.

The Panthers, who have been SCOL co-champions only one other time in their interscholastic history, will be shooting for a fifth straight win inside the tighest league sweepstakes in years.

WASHINGTON C. H. has dropped two of its last three SCOL outings in a bid to hoist its first undisputed league pennant since the 1955-56 season.

But it would take a Greenfield win to produce an outright title for the survivor of the Washington C.H.-Miami Trace skirmish.

Greenfield, which is suffering a five-game tailspin, will be hoping to crack a nine-game nosedive inside the SCOL when head coach John Lawhorn's Circleville bunch comes calling for tonight's bout.

Only one game is on Saturday night's abbreviated docket involving SCOL teams as Hillsboro travels to Madison Plains.

A comical start

There have been some unusual happenings at junior high basketball games throughout the years, but the beginning of the Washington C. H. - Mt. Logan eighth grade contest at Chillicothe Thursday night has to rate among the strangest.

The game, for instance, could have ended in a 2-0 forfeit in Washington C. H.'s favor if it hadn't been for some thoughtful sportsmanship on the part of Coach Ken Hays.

Thursday's contest also featured an obvious violation of rules after an honest, but embarrassing mistake on the part of the officials.

It's was a pretty comical way to begin a game and here's the way Hays described it to this writer . . .

THE LION Cubs took the floor for the pre-game warm-up drills clad in their blue jersies, and to their surprise the Mt. Logan players had no light colored shirts and were also dressed in blue.

It was decided to start the game, despite the teams being dressed alike, however, when the officials prepared the players for the opening tip, the teams were faced in the wrong direction. Ironically, Mt. Logan controlled the tip, dribbled down and scored. But in Washington C. H.'s bucket.

Hays immediately signalled for a time out and informed the officials of the goof. They agreed and awarded the visitors with two points.

This enraged Mt. Logan's Coach and sparked a 12-minute debate in which he said the game would not be started until the points were erased. Hays told his counterpart that if he felt that way, the Lions would take a 2-0 forfeit.

In the meantime, the Lions were taking a few practice shots. Hays then said the boys had come to play and not to be confronted with this type of situation.

So, despite all rules, the two points were erased from the scoreboard and the game was started over again. Hays, thinking more of his players and the sport than arguing about rules, agreed.

What if the Lions had lost by only two points?

New Holland grabs share of MT title

New Holland captured at least a share of the championship in the Miami Trace District junior high basketball league Thursday night witha 51-44 showdown win over Eber.

The win was New Holland's seventh in nine starts, while Eber now stands 6-3 with one game to play on the season schedule.

DAN GIFFORD hooped 31 points on the basis of 12 field goals and seven free throws in sparking New Holland to the win. Bill Hanners scored 21 points for Eber.

Neil Spears canned 34 points as Jeffersonville topped Madison Mills 66-61 in the highest scoring game of the season. Art Schlichter scored 48 of Madison Mills 61 points.

Dale Ambos quits Indian grid post

HILLSBORO — The resignation of Dale Ambos, head football coach at Hillsboro High School for the past four seasons, has been accepted by the Hillsboro Board of Education.

Ambos, 30, and a graduate of Capital University, coached Hillsboro to a lowly 14-55 all-games record during his tenure which started in 1969.

He becomes the third South Central Ohio League head football coach to resign following the 1972 season. Others were Fred Bernier, Miami Trace, and Jay Knierim, Greenfield.

Lions finish with 12-2 mark

WCH frosh pop Panthers

Washington C. H.'s freshman basketball climaxed a sparkling regular season by bopping intra-county rival Miami Trace 62-30 Thursday night at the Junior high gym.

Coach Don Gibbs' Lion frosh, employing an annoying full-court press, strolled to a commanding 31-6 halftime bulge and used a strong third quarter scoring performance in notching their 12th win in 14 starts.

Chuck Byrd popped in 22 points and pivotman Doug Phillips contributed 21 to flame the Washington C. H. scoring punch. Terry Rodgers' 10-point performance was tops for Miami Trace.

The Lion eighth graders surged to a 24-16 halftime lead, but scored only 12 points in the next two frames and absorbed their ninth loss against three wins. Kenny Upthegrove and Jim Crabtree scored 11 and 10 points respectively for the Lions.

George Welsh new Navy football coach

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — "I've never been associated with a losing squad," George Welsh, Navy's new head football coach, said Thursday, "And I don't expect that string to be broken this fall."

Welsh, a one-time record-setting quarterback for the Middies and more recently an assistant coach at Penn State, was chosen to head a Naval Academy grid program that has produced a winning record only once in nine years.

Billy Williams signs

CHICAGO (AP) — Outfielder Billy Williams has signed his 1973 contract with the Chicago Cubs for an estimated $150,000. The figure would make him the highest-salaried player in Cub history.

Three junior high cage tourneys set Saturday

Two junior high basketball tournaments will open action Saturday afternoon while a third heads into its final rounds..

Miami Trace's South Central Ohio League freshman tournament and the Washington C. H. seventh grade tourney will be launched Saturday, while the consolation and championship rounds of the Sabina Invitational eighth grade tournament are being played.

Washington C. H.'s eighth grade team will meet Kings Mills at 1 p.m. Saturday in the consolation round of the Sabina tourney and Wilmington tangles with Sabina at 2 p.m. for the championship.

IN THE SCOL freshman tournament at Miami Trace, Hillsboro and Miami Trace will open the three-day event at 1 p.m. Saturday and Greenfield meets Wilmington at 2:30 p.m.

Coach Don Gibbs' Washington C. H. frosh (12-2) and Circleville were top seeded in the Miami Trace tournament. The Lion Frosh will play the Miami Trace - Hillsboro winner at 5:30 p.m. Thursday and Circleville meets the Greenfield - Wilmington survivor at 7 p.m. Thursday. The championship game will be staged Saturday, Feb. 24.

Hillsboro (4-7) and Greenfield (6-6) open the Washington C. H. seventh grade tournament at 3 p.m. Saturday. Coach Carl Anders' Washington C. H. team (7-3) will meet Sabina (9-4) at 4:30 p.m. Circleville and Wilmington drew byes and will clash with the winners of those two contests Tuesday. The finals are scheduled Saturday, Feb. 24 at 3 p.m.

Lewis Realty nudges foes in 2 overtimes

It took Bob Lewis Realty six quarters to nudge a winless, but determined Carter Feed and Grain team Thursday night, while Miami Trace Faculty had no trouble shattering the century mark in only four quarters.

Bill Kirkpatrick hooped 20 points to lead Lewis Realty to its fourth win in 10 games and Dan Montgomery scored 23 points for Carter Feed, which suffered its 11th straight loss.

Modell attacks ignoring of Groza

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns, has told the pro football Hall of Fame that he's astonished Lou "The Toe" Groza wasn't selected for the hall this year.

Groza's omission from the National Football League's hall this year "just does not make sense," Modell said in a letter to the hall's publicity director, Don Smith. This is the first year Groza has been eligible for enshrinement.

Smith, said "neither the management nor the board of directors" of the hall have anything to do with selections. He sent the letter to the 27 selectors whose votes determine who is enshrined in the hall. That was Modell's request, and Smith said Thursday the letter was sent "somewhat as a routine matter."

Computer pairs grid, baseball playoffs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The computer is back in business for a second straight year of selecting Ohio High School football playoff teams.

"With a few minor changes," Harold Meyer said, "We will go down the same road for football playoffs as last year."

Meyer serves as commissioner for the Ohio High School Athletic Association, whose board of control Thursday approved the computerized method of selecting state semifinalists again.

The governing body of Ohio schoolboy sports did make some changes in the system, however.

The OHSAA will announce the team point totals as well as regional standings each week in 1973. Last year the point totals were divulged only after the last games.

The board also will calculate the point totals to two decmial points next fall. The decimals were not used for the opening playoffs in 1972, won by Warren Western Reserve in Class AAA, Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary in Class AA and Marion Pleasant in Class A.

"This will affect only those teams that play less than a 10-game schedule. It will help to eliminate ties and will give a more exact total," said Hannibal River High School Principal Harry E. Mallett, sponsor of the decimal proposal.

Hannibal River was the team that was supposed to be Class AA Region 7 champion, a crown that originally went to Uniontown Lake. A mathematical error cost River a semifinals berth, but it was later declared the regional victor.

The OHSAA plans to publish the won-lost records of all teams weekly, if it creates no snafu for the Columbus firm that compiles the computer ratings.

Mallett also proposed that points be deducted from a team's total for each loss sustained by itself and those of its opponents. The OHSAA will conduct a one-year experiment on this suggestion.

"An undefeated team should have some reward for its efforts. Penalty points...will also discourage scheduling higher class opponents in hopes of earning points," Mallett wrote the OHSAA.

The OHSAA paired the teams for the 1973 football semifinals, but will select the sites for the games next month. The draw:

CLASS AA — Region 8, Southwestern, vs. Region 7, Southeastern; Region 5, Northeastern, vs. Region 6, Northwestern.

CLASS A — Region 11, Southeastern, vs. Region 10, Northwestern; Region 9, Northeastern, vs. Region 12, Southwestern.

The OHSAA also conducted the 1972 regional and state tournament baseball draw:

CLASS AAA

REGION 2, NORTH CANTON — Youngstown vs. North Canton, Barberton vs. Toledo.

REGION 4, CINCINNATI — Troy vs. Cincinnati, Oxford vs. Dayton.

All regionals are May 25-26 and the state tournament at Ohio State June 1-2. In the state semifinals, it will be Region 2 vs. Region 4 and Region 3 vs. Region 1.

CLASS AA

REGION 6, LIMA — Bucyrus Wynford vs. Hamler Patrick Henry, Urbana vs. Bowling Green.

In the state semifinals, it will be Region 8 vs. Region 6 and Region 5 vs. Region 7.

CLASS A

REGION 12, URBANA — Coldwater vs. Urbana, Cincinnati vs. Dayton.

In the state semifinals, it will be Region 9 vs. Region 12 and Region 10 vs. Region 11.

You want to keep their world happy. Natural. Free. With clean air. Pure water. Good food. And shoes made with special care for young, active, growing feet. These shoes have leather's natural good looks. Long-wearing quality. Fine fit. They're made . . . and sold . . . by people who share your concern for your children's feet. Good shoes? More than that. Shoes for children whose parents couldn't care more.

Shrimp Gives Him a Migraine

My husband insists that whenever he eats shrimp with an iodine taste he develops a terrible migraine.

Of course, we have stopped buying the shrimp, but can other fish do the same thing?

Mrs. S.J.A., N.Y.

Dear Mrs. A.:

Migraine headaches are one of the most distressing and confusing complaints brought to the attention of the doctor. A great many misconceptions exist about migraine headaches, mostly because their description is often so vague and inconclusive.

Vascular headaches and "cluster" headaches are often used interchangeably with migraine because so many of the symptoms resemble each other. It is astonishing how often people burdened with migraine recognize some of the factors that trigger its onset.

There is no doubt that some foods and some types of alcohol may set off a migraine headache. A substance, tyramine, is found in high concentration in some cheeses, in chicken livers, and in herring. It is well known that tyramine may be a responsible factor.

It is highly possible, therefore, that foods like shrimp may contain a substance that your husband is sensitive to. It is fortunate to be able to find an offender so that it can be avoided. Not everyone can pinpoint the basic problem as your husband has.

Land turned over

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Coast Guard station at Ashtabula, Ohio, is among 16 parcels of federal land which President Nixon announced Thursday are being turned over to local governments for park and recreation use.

JUST FOR FUN

BY: ROD RICH

The automobile which captured the hearts of the woman in 1914, was the Ford Coupelet, a two-passenger model which could be driven year round, in any kind of weather. With the top up, it was a snug little car, clean and convenient and when the top was folded down, it became a smart little open-air run-about.

Women motorist today still like convenience and style in an automobile, and they are so much more fortunate, for they have a much wider range of makes and styles to choose from. The handy Honda is easy on the road, easy to park, easy on handling and control, and easy on the pocketbook.

Police said Michael C. Geagan had taken the car from Bell's Shell station after he had appeared in Municipal Court Thursday afternoon on a charge of driving an unsafe vehicle. The car had been towed and impounded on the service station lot early Thursday pending repairs police said.

Station employes said Geagan walked onto the station lot and drove away in his foreign model sports car before they could stop him. He sped down Delaware Street and then turned onto Lewis Street, headed for Bloomingburg.

In the meantime police and sheriff's departments were notified and began to look for the car. A service station operator in Bloomingburg spotted the car as it headed for I-71 and notified sheriff's deputies. Employes at a service station at Ohio 38 and I-71, alerted by sheriff's deputies, reported the car turning northbound on the freeway toward Columbus.

Surrounding counties and Highway Patrol posts had been notified to stop the car and it was finally halted by Pickaway County sheriff's deputies on I-71 north of the CCC Highway, about 15 minutes later.

GEAGAN was returned to Washington C.H. police headquarters where he was again charged with driving an unsafe vehicle. He was freed after posting $100 bond. His car was impounded again — at a Mount Sterling service station.

Geagan had appeared in Municipal Court just before the episode and was fined $25 and costs for driving the unsafe vehicle. Police said the left front fender of the car was damaged and it had no headlights.

He was arrested on the charge at 2:05 a.m. Thursday.

Other cases heard by Municipal Court Judge Reed Winegardner Thursday afternoon were:

POLICE

Fined:

SHERIFF

Fined:

Andrew F. Robertson, 56, Rt. 2, $50 and costs, and a 60-day license suspension for reckless operation; a charge of leaving the scene of an accident was withdrawn.

Bond Forfeiture:

Rural rhythm feature of Lions meet

GOOD HOPE — Blue Grass and country music kept Good Hope Lions Club toes tapping Thursday evening at Wayne Hall as "Dave Huffman and the Blue Grass Ramblers" entertained, following a dinner prepared and served by the United Methodist Church women.

Lion President R.B. (Bud) McCoy conducted the business session, during which Roger McCoy and Eddie Rae were installed as new members, with Roger Godsey in charge of the service. Dean Yahn reported approximately $800 profit from the Lion fruit cake sale, the proceeds going into the Lions Sight Saving Fund.

The Zone chairman, Robert Bishop, reminded the group that the next Zone meeting will be March 8 in the Elks Home at Wilmington, and Jim Hughes said that the annual Ladies Night will be held March 15 at the American Legion Home, with festivities beginning at 6:30 p.m. The Lions District convention will be March 24-25 in Fairborn, and the next regular board meeting will be Monday at 8 p.m. in Wayne Hall.

New Holland PTO program Tuesday night

NEW HOLLAND — A special program will be presented by the Camp Fire Girls, Cub Scout Pack 157 and Boy Scout Troop 157 at a PTO meeting in the New Holland school gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Members of the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Satchell, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Funk, Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jacobs Jr. and Mrs. Helen Root.

Another feature of the program will be the awarding of prizes for the school project -- the candy sale.

Serving on the refreshment committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cherry, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Slager, Mrs. Rosemary, See, Mrs. Carolyn Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Doyle.

students while Bill was teaching. I'm beginning to think this keeping records for both places is a never ending job.

Saturday morning, when we came to work, it was only seven degrees above zero. The engines turned over very sluggishly, and there was quite a bit of frost on the wings. However, we got busy thawing them out, and were ready to fly in about an hour. Howard Wright helped defrost the planes, and then took his little son, Johnny, for a flight. Jim Vess, Ed Pendergraft, Keith Houghton and Tom Preston flew to Cambridge where Jim remained for a ball game. Tim Vehnekamp flew solo, practicing commerical maneuvers, and Mr. and Mrs. Kinley rented one of our trainers for a little pleasure flight.

Our work days are becoming longer, as we now have more daylight hours, and in another six weeks, we should be swinging into our busy season. The Ag planes will be flying in to sow grass seed, etc., and our students will be doing more flying as the weather improves. As always, we will be glad to see the long winter months end, and spring arrive.

On this optimistic note, I'll wind things up for now. You-all come see us!

Eastside's Parent-Teacher Organization, meeting at the school, enjoyed a film and narration on Thailand as foreign exchange student Bundit Kanyavongha gave the members a quick trip through his homeland. Mrs. Evelyn Petry, school psychologist, talked about her work with students.

PTO members decided on an extensive list of projects they plan, to spend part of the money made at the fall carnival and supper. They plan to take the Safety Patrol boys and girls on a trip to King's Island; to provide money for Eastside Cub Scout Pack 20; to sponsor a ping pong tournament; to buy math labs, an office copier, a paper cart to transport material to the various classes, playground equipment and paint to refinish some of the old equipment.

They hope, also, to buy a portable basketball goal, which can be lowered for use by the smaller boys and can be removed for storage; a filing cabinet for the fifth class room, a projection screen, a film strip projector and a projection cart, some dinosaur posters for the walls, a listening center with eight listening posts, kitchen equipment, kindergarten material, a new Santa Claus suit and lumber for shelves and bookcases, or educational TV equipment, depending on the availability of manpower to build the shelves.

The next meeting, in April, will be the Spring Party.

Staunton-Olive PTO appoints election panel

STAUNTON — The Staunton-Olive Parent-Teacher Organization, meeting Thursday evening in Staunton School, participated in a short business session, conducted by Mrs. Robert Smith, vice president. A $436.99 balance was reported in the treasury.

A nominating committee for new officers was named, including Mrs. Eddie Gault, chairman, Mrs. Donald Wolfe, Mrs. John Peterson, Mrs. Donald Bailey and Mrs. Martin Smith.

The PTO agreed to give $50 toward the purchase of new carpeting for the kindergarten room at Staunton. Mrs. Wolfe, ways and means chairman, said the sale of boxed candy will begin Monday, and a skating party is planned for March 14, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., at Roller Haven.

The evening's program presented the kindergarten classes in musical selection, under the direction of Mrs. John P. Case, and plays, which were coached by Mrs. Glenn Hutchinson, teacher, and her aide, Mrs. Roseann Newbrey.

Mrs. Harold Anderson, 4-H assistant for organization, and Mrs. Virgil Hardman, 4-H key leader, for Concord, Green and Perry townships, discussed the 4-H program.

Mrs. Hutchinson's class was named the one with most parents attending Refreshments were served, with Mrs. Daryl Bailey as chairman.
